FURY AT 36-WEEK WAIT FOR AN OP

BY ROB COX

THE son of a Cannock pensioner who has been waiting 36 weeks for a hip replacement has criticised hospital bosses and branded her treatment 'criminal'.

Marjorie Barratt, aged 90, was referred by an orthopaedic surgeon at Cannock Chase Hospital and was advised she needed the operation in September last year.

But more than eight months later she is still waiting, having been told by hospital staff there is not enough money to pay for the procedure. But hospital chiefs denied that was the reason and have said they will look into the delay.

Her son Martin said the long wait is damaging his mother's health – she recently fell after her hip gave way – and said she was previously 'pretty sprightly' and 'sharp as a tack'.

Marjorie Barratt

Angered by her treatment, the 51-year-old has complained to hospital chief David Loughton and written to the Prime Minister. He said: "Her hip is now causing her lots of pain, and she is not getting around very much. The less mobile she gets the less fit she is.

"I am worried it will get to the point where she won't be able to have the operation at all.

"It is disgraceful that a lady reaches 90 and this is how she is treated. I am outraged. It is criminal, frankly."

Mrs Barratt, who previously lived in Tettenhall, first had problems with her hip following a knee replacement last year.

Following her referral on September 15 she was eventually scheduled to have the hip operation on March 21 but 10 days before the procedure, it was cancelled. Her son, who lives in Surrey, was told this was because there was insufficient staff to open the necessary ward. After being frustrated in his search for answers, he wrote to Mr Loughton and complained on May 18.

He received a reply from a patient experience team administrator stating a senior manger would review the complaint.

Gwen Nuttall, chief operating officer of The Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust, said: "We will be contacting the family to listen to their concerns and see what can be done to schedule and complete the treatment. It is not correct to say that there is not enough money to pay for the procedure. Patients and their families are our first priority, and we will take these complaints very seriously. In the first instance we will look to minimise any further waiting."

SUPER SLIMMER ANNE CALLS IT A DAY AT 75

Slimming consultan, Anne Cann, aged 75, from Cannock, left, smiles alongside the longest-serving member Brenda Davis, 79

'I THINK at 75 it is probably time to put my feet up now, but I will still miss it.'

Anne Cann, from Cannock, has called time on her career as a consultant for Slimming World and says she is 'filled with pride' when she thinks of the lives she has helped to transform. Anne joined Slimming World as a member in 1990 with her daughter, eager to lose a few pounds. However, she ended up gaining a career and countless new friends after catching the slimming bug.

She said: "I just loved it as soon as I went – the people, the activities, everything really got me hooked. I carried on going, and soon enough I was asked to come on board as a consultant. At my first class, there was only nine people in attendance. However, after a few weeks, that shot up to around 50."

After 21 years working for Slimming World, Anne says she still feels proud of her work with each person. She said: "I couldn't even start to think how many people I have worked with. It must be thousands.

"I think it is just a wonderful thing, and seeing that change in people is always amazing. When people start, they feel down on themselves and want to change that. Then you see them keep pushing themselves, getting happier and happier.

"When they leave, you can see that they feel like they can do anything now."

Anne was treated to a retirement party at the Avon Road Business Centre. She was given a gold watch, flowers and cards in honour of her commitment over two decades.

She said: "It was a lovely send-off but I did have mixed emotions. I was glad to be finishing work, I think at 75 it is probably time to put my feet up. I will still miss it."

COMPETITION

Organisers hope for Bloom surge

ORGANISERS of this year's Burntwood in Bloom are hoping for a surge in entries after a slow start to the competition.

Entries are down on previous years, and the town council is urging residents, schools and nurseries, pubs and clubs, local organisations and businesses to have a go at winning a prize.

The closing date is July 15. Entry forms can be collected from the council's office at The Old Mining College Centre, in Queen Street, Chasetown or requested by phone on 01543 677166 or downloaded from www.burntwood-tc.gov.uk

Car taken off drive in the early hours

AN Audi Quattro was stolen from a drive in Hednesford during the early hours.

CCTV footage shows two men driving off in the vehicle, which was taken from Sharon Way at 2.28am on Friday but police have no description of the men involved.

The car, which was fitted with a security locking device that makes it cut out, was found abandoned shortly afterwards in nearby Levetts Hollow.

Police officers are appealing for information about the theft.

Anyone with any information is asked to contact Staffordshire Police on 101 quoting incident number 63 of 27 May.

Child rapist finally caught in Brazil

Antonio Alves

A CONVICTED child rapist who posed as a teenage boy to groom his victim has been tracked down in Brazil after being on the run for three years.

Antonio Pedro De Olivera Alves, now aged 44, fled his Rugeley home in 2013 after being charged with raping a 12-year-old, whom he had attacked in Cannock in 2011.

He was convicted in his absence in June 2013 and sentenced to 11 years in prison, but was not arrested until last month when police officers pounced in Brazil's Jaboatão dos Guararapes region. Alvez had been living at Aneurin Bevan Place and working in Stafford when he contacted the schoolgirl through social media website Bebo in 2011.

He posed as a sports-loving teenager and after six months of grooming he lured the girl to a supermarket car park in Cannock and raped her.

The girl contacted police shortly after the attack in December 2011 and officers arrested Alves and seized his computers in January 2012.

The Portugese citizen was charged on January 17, 2013 but was allowed to keep his passport and did not turn up at his trial at Stafford Crown Court.

After hearing harrowing evidence, the jury found Alves guilty of one count of rape but acquitted him of a second charge.

The judge issued a European Arrest Warrant, sparking an international manhunt, and in September 2014, Alves was tracked down to Brazil.

Now, 18 months later, Alves has finally been detained.

Dc Jason Reaney, of Staffordshire Police's fugitive and extradition unit, said: "It's been a while coming, but by working closely together, we have our man."

New compensation deals on HS2 route

NEW compensation deals have been offered to home owners and businesses along the proposed HS2 route in Staffordshire.

Residents and small business owners near the 33-mile stretch from Lichfield to Swynnerton will now be able to sell their homes to the Government for the unblighted value plus 10 per cent.

Compensation payments of between £30,000 and £100,000 will also be available for those between 60 metres (196ft) and 120 metres (393ft) away.

And those situated between 120 metres and 300 metres (984ft) will be able to get payments of £7,500 to £22,500 once the HS2 legislation is passed.

Home owners can also sell their property to the Government and rent it back.

And anyone living any distance but affected by the line can apply to have their home or business premises bought if they can provide a compelling reason.

Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy said he remains opposed to HS2 but he was 'pleased' the offers had been announced.

Priority

He said: "I am pleased that these schemes have been announced and come into force today. I remain opposed to HS2 and will continue to make the case against it in Parliament and elsewhere.

"However, the number-one priority is that all affected constituents get the compensation and help that they deserve.

"I would encourage all eligible constituents to apply for the scheme that best suits them, and my office will be happy to help anyone who would like assistance with their applications."

Changes also mean eligible owner-occupiers can nominate local surveyors to value their property.

● HS2 bosses have responded to concerns raised by the National Trust over its plans to run a rail line through miles of Staffordshire countryside.

The trust, which is responsible for the upkeep of hundreds of sites of historical importance across the UK, had said it thought the plans were 'rushed'.

HS2 Ltd spokesman Clive Green said: "Designs for HS2 are not being rushed. They are being developed according to the published timescale.

Soldiers back schools challenge

Melody Macefield, eight, Ethan Bradley, 11, Sapper Clive Smith, Chelsea Gaye, 10, Grace Rogers, 10, Andy Sawyer

DOZENS of schoolchildren in Rugeley took part in a three-legged race in the presence of war heroes and double amputees Clive Smith and Scott Yarrington.

Churchfield Primary School hosted the event to raise money for Help for Heroes, welcoming youngsters from Redbrook Hayes and Hop Hill in the town.

On Friday, pupils were kept gripped as Sapper Clive Smith from Hednesford, and former Irish Guard Scott Yarrington, from Bloxwich, told them their stories having both lost legs serving in Afghanistan. In the afternoon, the children tackled a specially designed obstacle course with one leg tied to that of another student to highlight the difficulty of not having the full mobility of the lower limbs.

Andy Sawyer, from Hednesford, helped organise the event ,being a serial fundraiser for Help for Heroes including preparing for his sixth 400-mile Big Battlefield Bikeride across the historic conflict sites of the Western Front.

He said: "The pupils were absolutely fantastic on the day. Considering they are primary school children some of the questions they asked Clive and Scott were amazing. The three-legged race was to show them how they have to work with other people and learn how to do things when you have something different."

Through sponsorship more than £700 was raised for the charity, and the event, which was the first, will now become an annual fixture involving the three schools.

The money raised will add to the total Mr Sawyer has generated in sponsorship for the bike ride which so far is about £15,000.

Tributes to King of the Gipsies 'loved by all'

TRIBUTES have been paid to a 'proud grandfather' and 'King of the Gipsies', who died last month.

David Jones died aged 73 following a short illness.

Mr Jones was a respected traveller who lived in various places throughout the Midlands and was well known for his love of horses and food.

David Jones

His funeral took place at St Michael's Church in Lichfield on May 17.

A huge congregation from the gipsy community attended the service, with mourners coming from as far as America to pay their respects.

He was married to Mary for 55 years and had 12 children and 32 grandchildren.

His son Jamie, from Penkridge, said: "He was a proud husband who loved his wife and his family so much.

"As a father and grandfather, he was one in a million and loved by people all over the world.

"He was known for always having a full table of food and gave food to everyone," he added.

"He was known as the King of the Gipsies for his food.

"He was very well respected and known for his horses – Irish horses – and received trophies from the Royal Family at shows. He will be sorely missed."

Burglars smash a hole in wall

THIEVES made a large hole in a wall to gain entry to a nursery before making off with fishing tackle and equipment.

Officers from South Staffordshire Local Policing Team are investigating the break-in at Hollybush Nurseries in Shareshill. The break-in took place overnight on Wednesday last week.

The vandals tampered with CCTV cameras before smashing a large hole in the wall to gain entry to a fishing store located inside.

Police spokesperson Deana Pritchard said: "An untidy search was made and a large amount of fishing tackle and equipment stolen. Anyone with any information on the incident, or if you are offered any such items for sale, is asked to call Staffordshire Police on 101, quoting incident number 81 of 25 May."

Thefts from cars spark police plea

TOOLS, sat navs, purses and wallets were stolen during a spate of thefts from cars in Rawnsley.

The thefts happened in Deerhurst Rise, Aintree Close and Saunders Close, overnight on Tuesday last week. Police have appealed for witnesses to call 101.

Author puts her name to new village show trophy

VETERAN author Ivy Butcher, who is approaching the age of 100, has put her name to a new trophy for children's poetry at the Kings Bromley Show next month.

Prizegiving will take place at the show on July 23, shortly before the village joins in celebrating the milestore birthday.

Ivy Butcher

Mrs Butcher, former honorary secretary of the Kings Bromley Show for 20 years, was born at Victory Farm in 1916 and started writing her books on the social life of the village at the age of 84. She said: I'm delighted to give my name to this trophy as it represents a revival of the school's participation with their own tent at the show.

"I was born and have lived most of my life in Kings Bromley, and can remember the excitement of getting my first prize at the show as a five-year-old – it was for Bantam eggs!"

In the year that the popular Kings Bromley Show takes on a vintage theme, there will also be a focus on local young talent, featuring a special children's marquee with craft displays.

This year the show takes place from 10am to 5pm at Kings Bromley Show Field, Crawley Lane.

Visit www.kingsbromleyshow.co.uk for information and details on how to enter one of the competitive classes.

Churches to hold royal celebrations

CELEBRATIONS are being organised to celebrate the Queen's 90th birthday.

St Peter's Church, in Church Hill, Hednesford, will be holding two events on June 12. At 10am, there will be a service of celebration. This will be followed at 11.15am by an Indoor Street Party with food, drinks and fun for all the family. All are welcome at both events.

Other Staffordshire churches marking the occasion include St Mary's Church in Weeford, St Bartholomew's Church in Hints and St Giles' Church in Whittington, which are hosting a fete and party.

The fete will take place at Bit End Field, in Vicarage Lane, Whittington, on Saturday, June 11 from 1.30pm.

Approval granted for 14 new homes

PLANS to build a new residential development of 14 homes in Norton Canes have been approved.

Bosses at Cannock Chase Council approved the scheme for land to the north of Norton East Road.

Bins reminder to stick-er to speed limit

A volunteer attaches a sticker

SPEED-LIMIT reminders to display on wheelie bins are being handed out in Hednesford in a bid to make drivers slow down.

The stickers have been produced following residents' concerns about traffic hazards in the town. Additional speed indicator devices have already been installed near Hill Top.

Now, the initiative, which is being supported by the Safer Roads Partnership, has taken another step towards securing funding for Community Speedwatch equipment.

The bins move is designed to be a 'weekly reminder' for motorists of the speed limit. Councillor Paul Woodhead and local Green Party colleagues distributed several hundred of the stickers to residents living in the streets at the centre of the initiative – East Cannock Road, Lower Road, Stagborough Way and Hill Street.

Other areas will be covered over the coming weeks as the volunteers respond to neighbourhood concerns.

Councillor Woodhead said: "This is the next stage of the project to highlight the community concerns with excessive speeds in our area. A weekly reminder of the speed limit will help reinforce the message that speed kills, and we want motorists to drive carefully through our area, in particular some of these residential cut-throughs adopted by drivers to avoid traffic queues.

"The response from neighbours has been fantastic. We continue with our efforts to raise the £1,000 needed to fund the equipment and training for the volunteers who want to establish the formal Community Speedwatch. This takes a little time. However, we are progressing several avenues."

Power station sports clubs facing eviction

DOZENS of sports clubs are set to be evicted when Rugeley Power Station closes in a few weeks' time.

Ever since the announcement that the plant's remaining station would be shut down this summer – now confirmed for the end of June and years earlier than expected – attention has moved to the 120 jobs which will be lost at the site.

But Cannock Chase MP Amanda Milling is also calling on local leisure centres and sports halls to provide facilities for the dozens of teams and clubs which are also set to be hit by the closure. They have until March 2017 to find alternative places to meet.

Ms Milling said: "The sporting and leisure facilities at the power station are hugely important to the Rugeley community and the wider area.

"The site is home to everything from a social club, football pitches and tennis courts, through to a model railway.

"Dozens of clubs are based there, and the closure of these facilities next year is causing real concern for the thousands of people who use the site every year.

Minimum

"I am calling on any community centre, sports centre and local authority to come forward and help the clubs find a new home," she said.

The MP raised the issue ahead of visiting the power station to speak to bosses and trade union representatives about what is being done to support the workforce.

About 30 staff are expected to stay on for nine months to oversee the decommissioning process. It is estimated that the redevelopment of the site could take a minimum of five years, with demolition and decontamination of the brownfield site to take three years alone.

Ms Milling is holding a jobs fair at Rugeley Rose Theatre on Friday, June 17.

"It is essential that we do everything we can to support all of those affected, from helping the employees and contractors find new jobs, helping community groups find new facilities and supporting the wider supply chain who are reliant on the plant," she said.

"I am also calling on the site's owners and councils to ensure the existing leisure facilities are incorporated into the plans for the future of the site, as well as developments which will create new jobs and homes."

Laura Heeley-Archer, left, and Heidi Rutter are looking forward to the comedy and auction night in aid of These Hands Are Better Than None

Mothers send aid to crisis countries

THREE mothers have launched a charity campaign to help support people in crisis-ridden countries across the world.

The initiative, which is called These Hands Are Better Than None, was set up to help send money and aid to countries like Syria, which have been devastated by war.

The campaign was started on Facebook by mothers Laura Heeley-Archer from Cannock, Heidi Rutter from Walsall and Kirstie Kelly from Coventry, who are continuing their fundraising efforts with a comedy and auction night at the Black Country Arms in Walsall on July 30.

Since then they have held fundraising events, sent aid to countries in need and raised thousands of pounds in the process.

Laura said:"We've raised funds for community groups in Syria including Hand In Hand For Syria and the White Helmets.

"We ran a charity quiz in Cannock which was really successful and raised £1,500 and next up for us is a comedy and auction at The Black Country Arms."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

AS another Chelsea Flower Show slips into history, I reflect once again on the endless joys of gardening and how profoundly grateful I am that people find time to do it. Other people.

SUCH is the march of the mobile phone that many landline phones barely ring from one day to the next. In fact, this week comes a new landmark; it is now reckoned that half of all landline calls are nuisance calls. I took one only the other day. A call-centre lady, speaking in a strong Indian accent began, in all seriousness: "Hello. My name is Cherie Johnson." I informed her that my name was Father Christmas. We hung up at the same moment.

WHEN will they ever learn? In the 2001 Census, nearly 400,000 Brits declared their religion as "Jedi knight." In this year's competition to find a name for the UK's new research vessel, more than 100,000 voted for "Boaty McBoatface." You might imagine that by now the authorities would have realised you can no longer ask the Great British Public a sensible question and get a sensible answer. We are now told that the 2021 Census may include a question on our sexuality and gender. Let me be the first to out myself as Neutral McNewtface.

AS is so often the case, life imitates Brian. There is a scene in Monty Python's Life of Brian when a bunch of soothsayers are vying for the attention of passers-by with their prophecies. One unusually precise soothsayer, speaking in a strong Ulster accent, declares that: "For the demon shall bear a nine-bladed sword. Nine-bladed! Not two or five or seven, but nine." I am reminded of him as the Remain lobby assure us with great precision that if we leave the EU the average cost of a family's shopping will rise by exactly £220 while GDP will drop by precisely 3.6 per cent and 820,000 jobs – not 800,000 or 850,000 - will be lost. Coming soon: the Brexit plague of 1,999,997 locusts.

THE university of East Anglia has advised students not to throw their mortar boards into the air at their graduation ceremonies but to choose the "safer" option of miming the throw and having images of mortar boards digitally added to the photos. How many students have been slain by falling mortar boards is not disclosed. If the traditional graduate headgear is so dangerous, perhaps students should throw something else into the air, something light that all students possess and will cause no injury. Unpaid electricity bills, overdraft refusals, county-court judgments and so on.

Safety fears spark legal highs ban

LEGAL highs are no longer available over the counter as a new law came into force last Thursday which could see offenders jailed for up to seven years.

The blanket ban on the substances has been brought in amid fears they have caused deaths and fuelled anti-social behaviour.

The new Psychoactive Substances Act forbids the 'production, supply and importation or exportation for human consumption of the drugs'.

Shelves across the Black Country have been cleared of the substances, which were linked to the deaths of 144 people in the UK in 2014 alone.

County council bosses in Staffordshire welcomed the news and said they will continue to monitor premises suspected of continuing to sell legal highs. However, concerns have been raised that dealers of the drugs could now turn to illicit websites to continue selling them.

Councillor Gill Heath, cabinet member for communities and the environment, said: "These new laws cover substances which are capable of creating a psychoactive effect on a person who uses them.

"Retailers can no longer sell these so-called 'legal' highs, and our Trading Standards officers will be continuing to monitor premises that we suspect are selling them under the counter.

"These substances are often seen as an alternative to drugs like cocaine, cannabis and ecstasy, but the reality is that they are just as addictive and dangerous.

"They can have serious consequences for people's health."

115,000 cigarettes seized in crackdown

By Jordan Harris

A FOUR-DAY raid for illicit tobacco across Staffordshire resulted in more than 115,000 illegal cigarettes being seized.

A total of 20 premises, including shops, pubs and private addresses, were targeted in Rugeley, Burton, Tamworth and Newcastle during the operation.

The raids were part of a nationwide operation funded by the Chartered Trading Standards Institute, which tackled illicit tobacco supplies in nine regions of England, over six months, using specialist tobacco detection dogs.

In total, 118,080 illicit and counterfeit cigarettes were seized, in addition to 31.75kg of illicit hand rolling tobacco.

Staffordshire County Council's trading standards leader Gill Heath said: "This has been a highly successful, centrally funded operation, to reduce the amount of illicit tobacco in Staffordshire.

Danger

"We would again like to remind people of the dangers it presents.

"Aside from the content being unregulated, cigarettes fail to extinguish themselves when left to burn, presenting a real danger to people," she added.

"Illicit tobacco products are sold at cheap prices and won't contain English and pictorial health warnings, which really undermines smoking cessation initiatives."

Launched last year and supported by the Department of Health, Operation Henry was the first large-scale coordinated trading standards investigation of its kind to tackle the supply of illegal tobacco.

It resulted in the seizure of more than 2.5 million cigarettes worth £614,488 with concealed tobacco products found in walls, under floorboards and inside furniture.

Staffordshire County Council has urged anyone with information about illicit tobacco sales in the county to call the Fight the Fakes hotline on 01785 330356.

Tough mother tackles fear after tragedy

Tough Mum Jackie Desousa with show host Ben Shepherd

Getting a helping hand in the mud

THE mother of a 29-year-old woman who took her own life tackled a charity challenge that put her face to face with her fear of heights.

Jackie Desousa, 52, of Bridgtown, took on Good Morning Britain's Tough Mums challenge alongside other mothers who are overcoming personal battles.

Jackie's daughter, Jodie-Lee Timmins, took her own life in December after years of battling depression and borderline personality disorder.

In an effort to use her grief over Jodie-Lee's death positively, Jackie has taken to fundraising for Papyrus the suicide prevention charity for young people.

After one of her daughters secretly signed Jackie up to take part in Tough Mums, the 5km challenge set up by Good Morning Britain, she was faced with confronting her fear of heights.

She said: "When I found out I was going to be taking part I said to myself that I would do the whole thing, I was determined. I was terrified when it got to the drop though, I had to sit down.

"Eventually I was pushed by a volunteer, so it was done for me, otherwise I could have still been up there."

A coroner ruled Jodie Lee's death was suicide after hearing evidence from police during an inquest.

The mother-of-two was found by officers at her home in Heath Hayes, with toxicology reports indicating that there was no alcohol in her system and only a small amount of traced prescribed drugs.

Meeting to deal with queries on referendum

CANNOCK Chase MP Amanda Milling is holding a public meeting to help answer voters' questions ahead of the EU Referendum.

The event will be held on Friday, June 17 at 7.30pm at Our Lady of Lourdes Church Hall, in Uxbridge Street, Hednesford.

The event will include speakers from both the official In and Out campaigns. As well as hearing representatives from both campaigns present their arguments for remaining in or leaving the EU, members of the public will also have the opportunity to ask questions.

Ms Milling said: "Many constituents have contacted me wanting to know more information about whether they should be voting to remain in or to leave the EU.

"I have therefore organised this hustings so that voters can hear both sides of the argument, as well as ask their questions. The event is not part of either campaign, and I hope that it will be useful in addressing local voters' queries.

"This is a really important, once in a lifetime, referendum on our membership of the EU

The event is intended for people who have not made up their minds or need more information before casting their vote.

The venue can accommodate up to 150 people and any members of the public wishing to attend will need to register by contacting Amanda Milling on 01543 877142 or email amanda.milling.mp@parliament.uk

Get out and vote, students urged

A STAFFORDSHIRE University professor is urging students and young people to vote in the referendum – an event he describes as 'monumental'.

The call comes as Staffordshire University launches its EU Campaign ahead of the June 23 vote to decide on Britain's future in or out of Europe.

The #InsandOuts campaign is aimed at informing students and engaging them in the issues which will have an impact on their future.

Mick Temple, professor of journalism and politics at the university said: "The message to students is, if you care, get out and vote."

"What happens, if they don't vote, is the decision affecting their future is going to be made by a generation who aren't around to face the consequences," he added.

Staff and pupils have their say

WOLGARSTON High School in Penkridge has voted to stay in the EU.

Fifty eight per cent of the 532 votes that were cast by staff and pupils in a mock European Referendum supported the UK's continuing membership of the European Union.

Campaigners furious over debate on library bid

CAMPAIGNERS say they are 'disgusted' with the outcome of a discussion on the future of Lichfield Library.

A petition containing 5,500 signatures calling for the library not to be moved from The Friary to St Mary's was handed over to bosses at Staffordshire County Council and a discussion was held. Council bosses decided to take the petition on board and continue to mull over the decision.

However, campaigners believe they were treated unfairly during the discussion, going as far to call it 'an orchestrated series of attacks' rather than a conversation.

Simon Partridge, Lichfield and Burntwood spokesperson for the Green Party, who organised the petition, said: "We are disgusted that Staffordshire County Council has chosen to totally disregard the wishes of over 5,500 of its residents, and press ahead with its plans for Lichfield Library without any public consultation.

"We are even more dismayed that the public debate our petition was due turned out to be such a travesty of democracy."

Ben Adams, Staffordshire County Council's cabinet member responsible for libraries, who spoke during the debate, said the proposal to move the library from The Friary to St Mary's on a 30-year lease was an exciting opportunity.

In response to the Green Party's concerns over the petition discussion, he said: "A recording of the debate is available online."

Deputy PCC is reappointed

STAFFORDSHIRE'S Deputy Police and Crime Commissioner Sue Arnold has been reappointed.

Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis proposed the reappointment which was confirmed following a meeting of the Police and Crime Panel. Mrs Arnold was appointed Deputy PCC in November 2012 and has worked on behalf of the PCC to help support victims.

She has worked on the introduction of the Police Cadets service across Staffordshire and led campaigns against female genital mutilation, modern slavery, domestic abuse and business crime.

Mr Ellis said: "Sue has brought real drive to her role over the past three and a half years."

Brave little Margot continues to inspire

Margot Martini – tragic

SHE was the pocket princess whose battle with leukaemia sparked a worldwide appeal for a bone marrow donor.

And 18 months after her tragic death, Margot Martini continues to inspire.

More than 40,000 people have registered as potential donors thanks to a charity launched in the two-year-old's memory, the Team Margot Foundation.

That means more than 500 people will now have the chance of a potentially life-saving transplant. Team Margot is setting its sights on getting 2.2 million people to join the stem cell register – specifically targetting people from black, Asian, ethnic minorities and mixed heritage backgrounds such as Margot.

Margot's parents Yaser and Vicki and their friends and family recently hosted a reception on the House of Commons Terrace with MPs and stars including Daley Thompson and Nick Ross to mark the first year of the foundation.

Mr Martini said: "We are incredibly grateful to the huge support we have had. Margot died 18 months ago and in January last year the Team Margot Foundation became a charity.

"Every 20 minutes someone in this country is diagnosed with leukaemia. For those like Margot being matched with a bone marrow donor is critical for survival."

Vicki, from Essington and whose family live in Wolverhampton, said: "If you'd be prepared to accept a donation of any kind, then you should be prepared to give also. We'd like people to think about that." To find out more go to www.teammargot.com

Investment helps bring thousands of new jobs

STAFFORDSHIRE is continuing to 'reap the harvest' of investment, with more than 1,700 jobs created in the last year and thousands more to come.

Investment from companies in Turkey, the United States, India, Australia and Spain during 2015-16 has sparked the jobs boost, with new figures revealing that millions of pounds ploughed into Staffordshire created 1,770 jobs in total.

The news comes soon after Staffordshire County Council approved a commitment to deliver three major business development projects in the county that would potentially create thousands of jobs.

Around 2,800 jobs look set to be created by the development of the former Royal Ordnance factory site in Featherstone.

Another major boost is set to come in the shape of the proposed £8 million West Midlands Interchange, which will be built on 618 acres of land west of junction 12 of the M6.

Availability

Mark Winnington, Staffordshire County Council's cabinet member for economic growth, said: "This county is known for supporting business with a 'can-do' attitude and by delivering major infrastructure projects such as roads, commercial premises and high-speed broadband.

"It's pleasing to see overseas companies responding to that and recognising Staffordshire's many assets, including a good location and transport connections, the availability of land or off-the-peg premises and a talented workforce."

Jaguar Land Rover's manufacturing expansion at its i54 South Staffordshire factory accounted for many of the jobs, but other overseas investors included a provider of professional business services, a leisure company and an automotive parts supplier.

Three projects given the nod by council bosses will potentially create thousands of jobs, with work to bring in funding already under way.

Design and project management work has begun on attracting funding for the delivery of construction work at Keele University Science and Innovation Park, infrastructure work at Chatterley Valley near Newcastle-under-Lyme and at the former Royal Ordnance factory site in Featherstone.

Driver's special delivery at Asda

Proud parents Jess and Russell Moore, from Cheslyn Hay, with their baby daughter Maggie-Mae

A QUICK-THINKING father leapt into action to deliver his own baby after his wife went into labour in a supermarket car park.

It was the second time Russell Moore found himself bringing a child into the world. The 43-year-old professional driver delivered his son Alfie at the couple's home in Staffordshire two years ago.

This time, baby Maggie-Mae was born into the world in the family's Vauxhall Vectra – on Asda's car park in Bloxwich. Russell and wife Jess, of Pinfold Lane, Cheslyn Hay, were en route to Walsall Manor Hospital when their daughter made her debut appearance.

Russell said: "Maggie-Mae was planned to be a water birth but we never got that far, she was an Asda birth."

He said: "Well I suppose it weren't too bad because I delivered my first as well at home." Russell said the time between his wife's waters breaking in the family car and the actual birth of Maggie-Mae was about four minutes.

Taking instructions over the phone from the emergency services, he delivered his baby daughter at 6.25am – at a very healthy 9lb 5oz.

He confirmed that Maggie-Mae and Mrs Moore, a 25-year-old full-time mother, who was born in Cannock, were both doing great.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Firm helps to raise £2,000 for charity

A CARE and support charity that exists to improve the cancer experience of young people aged 13 to 24 has been given a special delivery thanks to the generosity of Cannock-based courier network APC Overnight.

The firm used its All Depot Meeting to raise £2,000 for the Teenage Cancer Trust, as 480 representatives from the company's 115 depots located across the UK visited the Hilton Birmingham Metropole Hotel in April.

The event ended with a charity raffle, which saw guests raise the sizeable sum for the charity.

Motorbike theft at beauty spot

A MOTORBIKE was stolen from a car park on Cannock Chase.

The large blue BMW tourer was taken from a car park at Brindley Heath at 4pm on Sunday, May 22, where it had been left for15 minutes.

The bike has distinctive Guy Martin stickers on the rear, and a Scottish flag sticker on the back.

Inside the back box was a lime green helmet with a split clear visor and a pair of leather gloves.

Anyone with any information can contact police on 101, quoting incident number 567 of 22 May.

Cash stolen from bag in burglary

A HOME in Rawnsley was burgled days after a spate of thefts from cars in the area.

Offenders entered the insecure garage at the property in St Francis Close before going into the house via the kitchen door, which had also been left insecure.

They then took cash from a bag on the kitchen table before leaving. It came after tools, sat navs, purses and wallets were stolen in Deerhurst Rise, Aintree Close and Saunders Close.

IN MY VIEW
with Mark Andrews

Warden's moan just ticket for hypocrisy

YOU know that parking enforcement is going too far when even the traffic wardens are complaining about it.

After years of platitudes about "keeping the traffic moving" and "keeping the public safe", a disgruntled warden in Dudley has revealed they are being told to issue an average of 4.7 tickets each a day to meet budget targets.

I would love to say that comes as a surprise, but really it is right up there with the revelation that Big Daddy used to like his grub.

It has long been my belief that the vast majority of parking tickets are nothing to do with either road safety or the free flow of traffic.

They are simply councils fining people for minor breaches of rules that they dreamt up themselves.

And ticketing targets for traffic wardens are the price we pay for the dreadful decision to take parking enforcement away from the police and to hand it over to local authorities.

Well here's an idea. Let's get rid of all civil parking wardens, the whole lot of them, and use the money to take on a few extra police. It might only be a handful of extra officers, but I'm sure they will come in handy.

And in return? Well, leave it to the police to deal with the small number of instances where there is a real issue of public safety or obstruction.

That will, of course, mean there is nobody to enforce the majority of parking offences, the ones that are nothing to do with public safety but simply people parking in places the council does not approve of. Never mind, I'm sure life will go on.

FANTASTIC story about burglary victim Yannick Read, who responded to the theft of his £1,000 racing bike by coming up with what surely must be the ultimate anti-theft device.

His gadget not only features a 150-decibel siren, but also a shotgun-style cartridge packed with gunpowder. This means the bike really does go up in smoke if some light-fingered little low-life tries to half-inch it. What's not to like?

What I don't understand, though, is why anyone would spend £1,000 on a bike. Maybe I'm sounding like the dad off the Yellow Pages advert.

DR HENRY Heimlich, who invented the lifesaving Heimlich manoeuvre in 1974, used his own technique for the first time last week.

The 96-year-old performed the procedure on a fellow resident of a care home in Cincinatti.

In the US alone, the manoeuvre is credited with saving 100,000 lives. Oh, and David Walliams used it when Simon Cowell choked on a mint. Swings and roundabouts, I guess.

Under cover: the remains of the Dornier bomber

Conservation centre manager Daren Priday looks inside the plane

Taking shape – a propeller from the Dornier Do 17

New chapter written for the 'Flying Pencil'

SOPHIE MADDEN reports on the restoration of the last surviving Second World War 2 German bomber of its type

AT first glance it looks like an unremarkable warehouse, with lighting strips shining down from the roof to show racks of shelving and cargo covered by dark green tarpaulin.

But underneath the covers lies a piece of Second World War military history.

The remains of the last Dornier Do 17 bomber lie sheltered from the elements as part of a project to conserve them for future generations.

The Germans built 1,500 of the bombers. The one now sitting in the Conservation Centre at RAF Museum Cosford was raised from the bottom of the Strait of Dover in the English Channel almost three years ago.

The Dornier and its many small components were sprayed with a citric acid solution for months in order to clear them of debris from their time under the water. There still remains more work to be done before the plane can go on permanent display.

Materials

On completion, the plane's permanent display will be the first time it has been seen since November, where it was the centre-piece of the museum's Conservation Centre Open Day.

Darren Priday, RAF Museum conservation centre manager, said they were waiting on confirmation from project adviser, Professor Mary Ryan from the Imperial College London, on how best to treat the metal before the aircraft goes on display to the public.

He said: "It is now in the hands of the museum's design and interpretation team to decide how the aircraft should be displayed and what supporting materials should be included in order to tell the story."

The Dornier's twin-engine, twin-fin configuration, together with the narrow fuselage and shoulder-mounted engines, gave the aircraft a distinctive silhouette and earned it the nickname 'The Flying Pencil'. More than 400 were employed by the Luftwaffe during the Battle of Britain in the Second World War.

Workers at RAF Cosford Museum reapplying the cover to protect the aircraft

At the time of the Dornier's recovery, it was unclear just how much of the aircraft could be saved following more than 70 years on the seabed. The process so far has seen the aircraft systematically sprayed – inside purpose-built hydration tunnels – with a low concentration citric acid-based solution.

Confident that the citric acid solution has done its job, the fuselage was removed from the tunnels in early September 2014 and has undergone an intense wash down, before being moved into the Conservation Centre. Technicians then began working on the Dornier full time, cleaning and scraping and removing deposits by hand.

The gradual process of removing the thick layer of marine deposits revealed several bullet holes and shrapnel damage on the airframe, plus small areas of the original paint finish.

The plane was shot down by the RAF on August 26 1940. Part of a large enemy formation, it was intercepted at noon as it tried to attack airfields in Essex.

This particular aircraft was forced to make an emergency landing on Goodwin Sands at low tide after an attack by Defiant fighters of No 264 Sqn that left both engines stopped and the crew wounded. Now deposits have been removed, conservationists have found bullet holes and shrapnel damage.

While working on some of the smaller components, volunteers also discovered push rods still coated in their original oil and when a pipe was removed from a fuel injection unit, a small amount of fuel was still present.

While smaller components are still receiving conservation treatment, the Dornier's forward fuselage, tail boom and wing have been temporarily covered by tarpaulins.

Under the coverings with the plane's parts is a dehumidifier which controls the environment and reduces humidity.

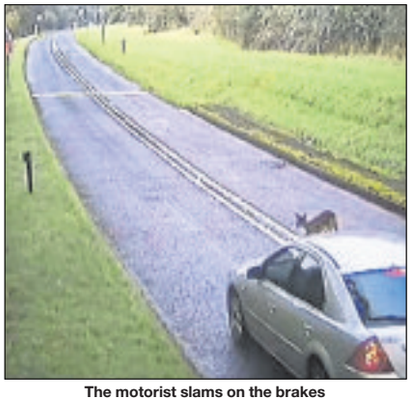
Near miss spells out message to drivers

The first deer are over safe and sound

More cross – but a car is approaching . . .



The motorist slams on the brakes

Disaster averted and the straggler is off

OH deer! When these nine beautiful creatures tried to cross the road, they found the traffic was a little too much for them.

After a few false starts, they make it across the road – but not without causing an oncoming motorist to brake hard. This disturbing sight was picked up on camera and shared on YouTube by Jochen Langbein in Cannock Chase, and shares an important message about watching out for deers on the road.

The video, which also includes shots of near misses from other locations, ends with the message 'When you see one deer . . . look out for another'.

On his blog, Jochen wrote: "May is the peak month for deer road casualties and related vehicle collisions countrywide. Close to 10,000 deer are likely to be hit in the UK during this month alone, close to twice as many as in any other month.

"Deer vehicle collisions increase especially on motorways and major A-class trunk roads during late spring, when deer coming up to one year old tend to be pushed out and disperse from their natal ranges.

"Be #deeraware and if you see one crossing the road, watch out, as another is likely to follow."

Loneliness is the worst demon to manage

THIS year, amazingly, I've reached 60 years of age. From my own experiences, in life, loneliness is perhaps the worst demon to manage.

Whatever has been a struggle, like my long difficult battle with mental health, family situations, general health and just day-to-day issues, in managing all of these, loneliness was by far the hardest. It made me feel ashamed, even stigmatised, because I was struggling. It felt people hadn't noticed this because I looked OK or they simply hadn't time or didn't want to be bothered and understand.

Now I feel I need to stop awhile and think. How does a family member feel? Or even a friend? And simply that person in the street I pass by? 'How are you?' – even a smile or 'Good morning' to a person alone or struggling, in some way often unnoticeable. A warm and loving hug or kiss on the cheek for a loved one or friend. It all goes a long way. Further than I may even realise.

I've made my mind up to take notice of those around me, and to try and make a difference to the quality of other people's lives. If someone is homeless, in need of a warm cuppa, even if someone wants to chat awhile, it will be my privilege to offer them hospitality, compassion or reassurance and show I really do care.

I suppose I'm asking if you too could take a moment to look at others and maybe let them know you care.

Council should fill potholes properly

WITH reference to Councillor Gordon Alcott trying to get something done about potholes, I have every sympathy with his plight (Chronicle, May 26).

But the thing that I find remarkable is the response, which I read elsewhere, from Mark Deaville, cabinet member for highways and transport at Staffordshire County Council: " . . . our crews fix around 20,000 potholes every year."

My suggestion to Mr Deaville is that if Staffordshire County Council could see its way to resurfacing Staffordshire roads properly instead of just filling potholes and sometimes hiding them with a top dressing, he would have a lot less than 20,000 potholes to fill.

It seems to me to be a typical accountant's answer to the problem to save money in the short term but probably end up paying more in the long term.

Nothing to remedy big problems

THE announcement of new Bills to extend the privatisation and commercialisation of our public services in the Queen`s Speech does nothing to remedy the big social problems such as the housing crisis, the faltering National Health Service and the cost of higher education.

University fees, which were trebled to £9,000 under the previous Tory coalition, will be allowed to rise even higher. HM prisons are in crisis with record high levels of inmate suicides, overcrowding, increasing violence against staff and prisoners.

All the above attacks are against the background of continuing vicious austerity cuts to our living standards, in order to bail out the super rich and their failed capitalist system.

However, the ability of this weak and divided Tory government to carry out these privatisations and cuts is limited.

Swim challenge has raised £165k so far

DIABETES UK would like to extend our thanks to the 1,554 swimmers who took on our Swim22 challenge.

Individuals and teams swam 22 miles each – the same distance across the English Channel – in their local swimming pools. Their amazing efforts have already raised £165,000 for Diabetes UK's vital work. We expect that over £200,000 will be raised once all the sponsorship money has been delivered. Money raised will help us to fund research into diabetes, campaign on key issues, and offer education and support to more people living with the condition.

There are now 4 million people with diabetes in the UK, a number that is growing rapidly. If you would like to take part in one of our fundraising events, see what we have coming up at diabetes.org.uk/fundraising

Giving a few hours can make a huge difference

WITH Volunteers' Week, the annual celebration of the contribution volunteers make, happening from June 1 to 12, I wanted to take the opportunity to say 'thank you' to everyone in your local area who has contributed so much to the charity Meningitis Now.

By giving a little of your time, you help us to help those affected by meningitis today and just a few hours a month can make an amazing difference.

If anyone would like to join us, and help in our fight back against meningitis, then we'd love to hear from you. Please do get in touch at tammyw@meningitisnow.org

Poetry is the inspiration for Great War exhibition

MOTHERS' tales of sons joining the Western Front, farmers staying behind to support the war effort and the work of thousands of women in munitions factories are just some of the stories being told in a new exhibition touring the county.

The exhibition, which is titled '14', documents the story of Staffordshire's homefront and the horrors of the battlefields during the Great War.

Visitors will get the chance to watch a mix of live footage, archive footage and animation through a series of 14 short films inspired by poems written by Staffordshire's former Poet Laureate, Tom Wyre.

Tom was Staffordshire's Poet Laureate from 2013 to 2014 and was commissioned to write 18 poems about the Great War and life on the homefront.

The Belgian Boy is featured in one of the short films in the exhibition

Bomb Girl – 'the videos and animation have really brought the poems to life'

Connect

He said: "The videos and animation have really brought the poems to life.

"Feedback on the exhibition has been very positive too, with the poems continuing to connect with people on many levels both emotionally and intellectually."

To find out more about Staffordshire County Council's Great War projects and commemorations, go to www.staffordshiregreatwar.com

The exhibition was commissioned by the council's Libraries and Arts Service in partnership with the Archives and Heritage Service.

The films were created by Emmy Award winners Junction 15, along with Animation, Stop Motion Animation and Puppet Making students from Staffordshire University. The exhibition itinerary is as follows: Stafford Record Office until June 6; Lichfield Record Office, June 6 to July 11; Perton Library, July 11 to September 17; Newcastle Museum & Art Gallery, September 17 to September 30; Codsall Library, September 30 to November 14; Penkridge Library, November 14 to January 2, 2017; Cannock Library, January 2 to February 6.

For more information on the exhibition, visit www.staffordshire.gov.uk/poetlaureate

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Book of questions is right answer for Jon

JON Steele, a self-confessed nosy parker with a talent for thinking up killer questions, has scant time for small talk.

When it comes to getting to know someone better, he says asking if they have ever been in an ambulance or when they last drank champagne will elicit a more revealing answer than inquiring about their favourite film.

Sister Jane with husband Glenn McGrath

Born above a shop in Brownhills, he started to compile a list of likely queries and realised he was on to something when friends would text, asking him to send them a batch of questions to while away a journey or take to a party.

The result was 'Can I Ask You A Personal Question?', a compilation of 1,000 questions which became a best-seller in Australia and has just been launched in the UK.

The former Brownhills Comprehensive student, who says many of the questions were inspired by nights at The Nags Head in Burntwood, originally selected 4,000 questions before rejecting three-quarters of them.

"They're basically questions that generate a story and usually a lot of laughs," he said.

"It's about taking the conversation above the everyday to another level and really find out about people.

"The questions to do with the workplace and relationships are usually the most revealing and funny. If you're curious about people, and I am, it's just a much quicker way of getting to know them." He went to live in Sydney in 2000 to be near his sister Jane, who was married to Australia cricketing legend Glenn McGrath. The pair spent precious years together before she died of breast cancer in 2008.

No time for small talk – Jon Steele who has penned a book of killer questions

During her fight against the disease, she and fast bowler Glenn set up the McGrath Foundation dedicated to raising funds and increasing awareness of breast cancer. The third day of the first Sydney Test Match each year is known as Jane McGrath Day and is dedicated to raising funds for the foundation. Jon, aged 47, is donating part of the proceeds from his book to a UK cancer charity. The Aussies loved the book which was published by Penguin Australia in 2004. Since returning to the UK 18 months ago, he decided to bring out a new version.

Jon, who has settled in Burntwood with his partner of three years, Megan, a friend from teenage years, has had various jobs. After selling his house in Sydney, he is currently weighing up his career options.

The book is available as an epub and on itunes, Kindle and Kobo.

Oyez, oyez! Town crier entertains

Burntwood WI

AFTER the singing of Jerusalem, special mention was given to Rene Gooch who had just celebrated her 100th birthday and to Ron Box who had been to receive her BEM that day.

They had both given the cakes and wine for the evening. Minutes were read from the previous meeting.

The club enjoyed its birthday dinner on May 10 at Darnford Moors Golf Club and look forward to a celebration picnic to mark the Queen's 90th birthday this month. The club has been asked to make cakes for St Giles Hospice and bring them to June's meeting.

Speaker for the evening was Ken Knowles Lichfield's Town Crier. He made a wonderful entrance wearing his regalia and ringing his bell. He opened with the Declaration of Lichfield and then gave an insight into the history of the city, places of interest and famous sons.

Ken told how he retired from education after many years and decided to take on the role from Lonza Atkins. The role involves being escort to the Mayor and Sheriff. The many stories he regaled had everyone in stitches, and he has won many town crier competitions. Mary Jarvis, who also had a bell to ring, gave the vote of thanks.

Ron talked about her day going to receive her award from the Lord Lieutenant of Stafford.

The competition was one by Judy Griffiths and the evening finished with the playing of Ron's favourite songs.

Barn dance keeps ladies on their toes

Etching Hill WI

A BARN dance on May 7 to raise money for a community defibrillator, was a great success, with fun had by all trying to keep up with all the routines directed by caller Irene Bohanan.

The dance was followed by a ploughman's supper.

The highlight of the month was the birthday party celebrating 70 years of the Institute.

Caterers Sheila Sindry and her team served a delicious buffet of cold meats and salad followed by scrumptious sweets, all homemade. The birthday cake, iced by Betty Watkin, was cut by president Chris Stinton and long-standing member Heather Williams.

'Lola Lamour' provided the entertainment. Her speciality is songs from the 1940s. She has a love of all things vintage including the way she decorates her home.

She sang songs from 40s, 50s and 60s and encouraged the audience to join in which they did, with great gusto. This was the start of what promises to be an interesting and enjoyable year.

Schools' concert again sells out

Rotary Club of Lichfield

SEVEN local schools participated – some for the first time – in the Annual Schools' Concert at the Garrick Theatre. organised by David Kershaw.

The concert was, as usual, a sell out and thanks go to all concerned for the enormous effort in producing such an entertaining and fun filled show.

The club's charitable funds were boosted by £200 from a silent auction, held by Alison and Trevor James at their house in Heritage Court. Lichfield's team of David Kershaw, John Heald, Godfrey Eland and Kelvin Armistead finished on 47 points in the district quiz, just two behind winners Southam.

More than 40 teams attended the annual Rotary quiz, organised and compered by Simon James, raising more than £1,000 for St Giles Hospice.

Care leavers benefit from epic trek

The team representing FCA and care leaver charity the Rees Foundation, who completed the 100-mile walk

A FOSTERING agency team trekked 100 miles from Llandudno to Cannock to raise money for care leavers.

The team, representing fostering agency Foster Care Associates (FCA), and care leaver charity the Rees Foundation, recreated the walk carried out by FCA care leaver Darren Howarth last year – but in very different circumstances.

Darren, who led the hike, had found himself unexpectedly homeless several years after leaving care. With nothing more than a pop-up tent, he walked along the canal from Llandudno and 11 days later arrived at the last place where he had known people who helped him – Cannock.

He said: "The valuable advice and support I received from the Rees Foundation at a very difficult time in my life has inspired me to support them by raising money and awareness."

The completion of the walk coincided with the start of Foster Care Fortnight which highlights the work done by foster carers in the UK. The team celebrated their achievement, and the fostering awareness week, at FCA's Staffordshire office with Darren, who now works as a chef, judging a 'Bake Off' competition run by staff and carers.

For more information on becoming a foster carer with FCA call 0800 023 4561 or visit www.thefca.co.uk.

Wanted: Volunteers to 'cherish' beauty spots

COUNCIL bosses would consider handing over some countryside estates in Staffordshire to volunteers who 'cherish' them already.

The county council is in the 'early stages' of looking at ways to save money spent on maintaining its countryside estate portfolio.

It has vowed not to sell any of the sites – including Cannock Chase, Chasewater, Apedale and Consall Nature Park – despite some land being considered a drain on public resources.

During a meeting of the Prosperous Staffordshire select committee, discussions were hold on the best course of action for each site.

Councillor Mark Winnington, economy boss at Staffordshire County Council, said: "From my experience in other areas of the country, volunteers who run former council-owned country parks are full of enthusiasm, excitement and knowledge.

"The parks and sites in our county are considered part of the community, and if we can get a community group who will cherish that land, it will be better than us just managing it.

The future of Cannock Chase is under discussion Picture: Daron Linney

"The community really want these country parks to be looked after."

The council said last year that it would not sell any part of its countryside estate portfolio.

The vow followed a public backlash after bosses said they would consider selling sites such as Cannock Chase to save money.

More than 7,000 people signed a petition against the site's potential sale.

While the possibility of looking to community volunteers to help run smaller estates was considered, the panel was wary of bringing in a potential partner for its larger sites, such as Cannock Chase.

Councillor Winnington said: "This is not a one-size-fits-all situation, and if somebody comes in to help run an estate, we have to make sure that they are aware of what makes that site special.

"Not only that, they need to be aware of things such as parking and opening hours, people are used to the current situation and small changes to things like that can turn them away," Councillor Winnington added.

"These sites need to be more appealing to visitors, and things need to change for that, but these sites are often one of the key reasons why people move to our area, and we need to ensure they don't lose any of their appeal."

Travellers park near power station

The travellers' encampment near Rugeley Power Station

TRAVELLERS set up camp on land near Rugeley Power Station.

Around 10 caravans were seen just off Power Station Road in the latest incident involving an encampment being set up in Staffordshire.

Staffordshire County Council has applied for a court order asking the travellers to leave the site.

Councillor Gill Heath, cabinet member for communities at Staffordshire County Council, said: "We are aware of the travelling families parked up on Power Station road and have applied for an order from the County Court for possession to have them moved on."

Earlier this year, travellers caused chaos at Cannock Chase Leisure Centre after taking over the site's car park.

Back in 2013, a dozen caravans were set up on Heather Close Playing Fields in Rugeley, with Staffordshire County

Pub change of use plan

A FORMER pub in Chase Terrace could be transformed into a restaurant and takeaway. Plans for the Oak, at 4-5 Burntwood Town Shopping Centre, Cannock Road, have been lodged with Lichfield District Council.

Other plans to be submitted include: Sunny Corner, 76 Upper Way, Upper Longdon – single and first-floor side and rear extensions and alterations to form four one-bedroom apartments and associated works.

Number 50 Rugeley Road, Armitage – garage conversion and single-storey rear extension to form living room, kitchen, porch to front and detached single garage to side.

Orchard Cottage, Church Hill, Longdon Green – single and first-floor side extensions to bedroom and garden store.

Hamley Lodge, Moor Lane, Stockwell Heath, Rugeley – change of use of barns into one three-bedroom dwelling with parking and amenity space.

The Beeches, Lichfield Road, Kings Bromley – demolition of garage and erection of a two-storey front, side and rear extension with single-storey front and rear extension, loft conversion to form porch, garage, living room, utility, kitchen, dining room, family room, bathrooms, five bedrooms and en suites.

26A New Road, Armitage – replacement of rear staircase to first-floor dwelling and replacement of three windows to front and rear elevations.

Number 86 New Road, Armitage – single-storey extension and conversion of detached garage to form annexe comprising kitchen, living room and bedroom with en suite.

Comments must be received by June 13.

Workers get skates on as park takes shape

The skate park takes shape on Hednesford Park under the latest phase of the £2m revamp project

YOUNGSTERS will soon have access to a skate park at Hednesford Park as the next phase of its £2 million revamp is well under way.

The work, due to finish in 2017, is gathering pace with a children's play area recently finished, alongside ongoing work to create a new pavilion.

The park was awarded £2.2million from the Heritage Lottery Fund in 2012 and the money is being used to fund the works, including the skate park.

Cindy Faulkner, from Friends of Hednesford Park, said the end was in sight for the project.

She said: "The skate park is coming along nicely now, I am not sure of the exact date when it will be finished but there have been no hiccups so far.

"As a whole, the project is coming along nicely, everything is going to plan."

"I think the workers are starting to see the light at the end of the tunnel and it is all looking really nice."

As part of its wider transformation, the pavilion is being extended to two storeys featuring a community room, balcony and ground floor café. A car park is also being created, while new tennis courts have already been installed.

With the end of the line in sight for the revamp, Cindy said she and other Friends group members were excited to see the final results.

She said: "Everything is going to look really nice.

"We are all getting very excited now about getting the whole job done, we are close to the end."

£10m fund supports Armed Forces projects

Jake nets sporting prize

Linda Hopkins presents Jake Smith with his prizes

A TEENAGED tennis player has collected an ace award – as Cannock's most improved young sportsman.

Jake Smith, aged 15, was nominated for the award by his coach at Cheslyn Hay Tennis Club, Chris Perrin, due to the progress he had made in a short space of time. Since 2014, he has moved up the rankings from 102nd in Staffordshire to 15th.

"I am delighted Jake has been chosen as the winner as his enthusiasm and talent for tennis is outstanding," said Chris.

The contest was run by Cannock Shopping Centre and a representative presented Jake with his award of sporting goodies.

Shopping centre manager Natal Chapman said: "Congratulations to Jake, he certainly deserves it.

"We received some fantastic entries and I was blown away by the amount of young talented people there are in the area.

"We chose Jake as it's obvious he has a very special skill for tennis and we hope that this award will push him further to succeed."

A SLICE of £10 million funding is available to organisations in Staffordshire to help support their local Armed Forces Communities.

Groups are being invited to apply for a share of the annual cashpot, which has been made available through the Ministry of Defence's Covenant Fund.

It offers financial support to organisations and projects that support armed forces personnel, their families, and veterans, while increasing understanding among the local communities where they live. Staffordshire County Council is now supporting groups with their applications.

The council's Armed Forces champion, Councillor Alan White, himself a former serving member, said: "Staffordshire has a long and proud military heritage, which continues to this day with the Defence Medical Services in Lichfield and the Royal Signals in Stafford, as well as a large number of Reserve units and Cadets.

"We want to be able to support our local armed forces, those serving, veterans, cadets and their families, and the funding will help to do this."

Stressful

Among those to benefit so far are The Staffordshire Regiment Museum, awarded £20,000 for its Mission: Adventure project, and Make Some Noise West Midlands, a Stafford-based music and education charity for young people. It was awarded £18,290 for its Connect Create project.

Grants of between £20,001 and £300,000 will be put forward for projects that support families of serving personnel who are experiencing a significant stressful life event and would benefit from a provider who can offer specialised, localised (or easily accessible) and immediate support.

Funding of between £20,000 and £500,000 would be used for projects that materially improve the experience of local Armed Forces communities and ensure that they are not disadvantaged.

£100,000 boost for vital heart research

Cancer team's cash boost

A HEDNESFORD resident has donated £1,130 to The Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust's cancer team in memory of his late wife.

Trevor Hood presented a cheque to Consultant Oncologist Dr Rakesh Mehra to show his family's appreciation of the treatment of Janet Hood. She was cared for at the Deanesley Centre at New Cross Hospital.

Leanne Bood, the trust's fundraising co-ordinator, said: "Sincere thanks to Mr Hood and family and friends. Their kind donations will allow the Trust to provide additional items to patients of the Deanesley Centre."

HEART patients in Staffordshire are set to benefit from a £100,000 donation to help fund world-leading cardiac research.

The University Hospitals of North Midlands NHS Trust,which treats patients from across Stafford and Cannock Chase, is a leading centre for research into heart disease.

The latest funding, which comes from the North Staffordshire Heart Committee charity, will support further work on the best way to carry out percutaneous coronary intervention – the practice of inserting metal stents to treat narrowed or blocked arteries so that blood can flow freely into the heart.

Research work led by the trust's Professor Mamas Mamas has shown that the best way to carry out this surgical procedure is to insert the stent through the wrist, rather than through the groin.

It is estimated that 450 lives have been saved nationally by this change in practice.

Training

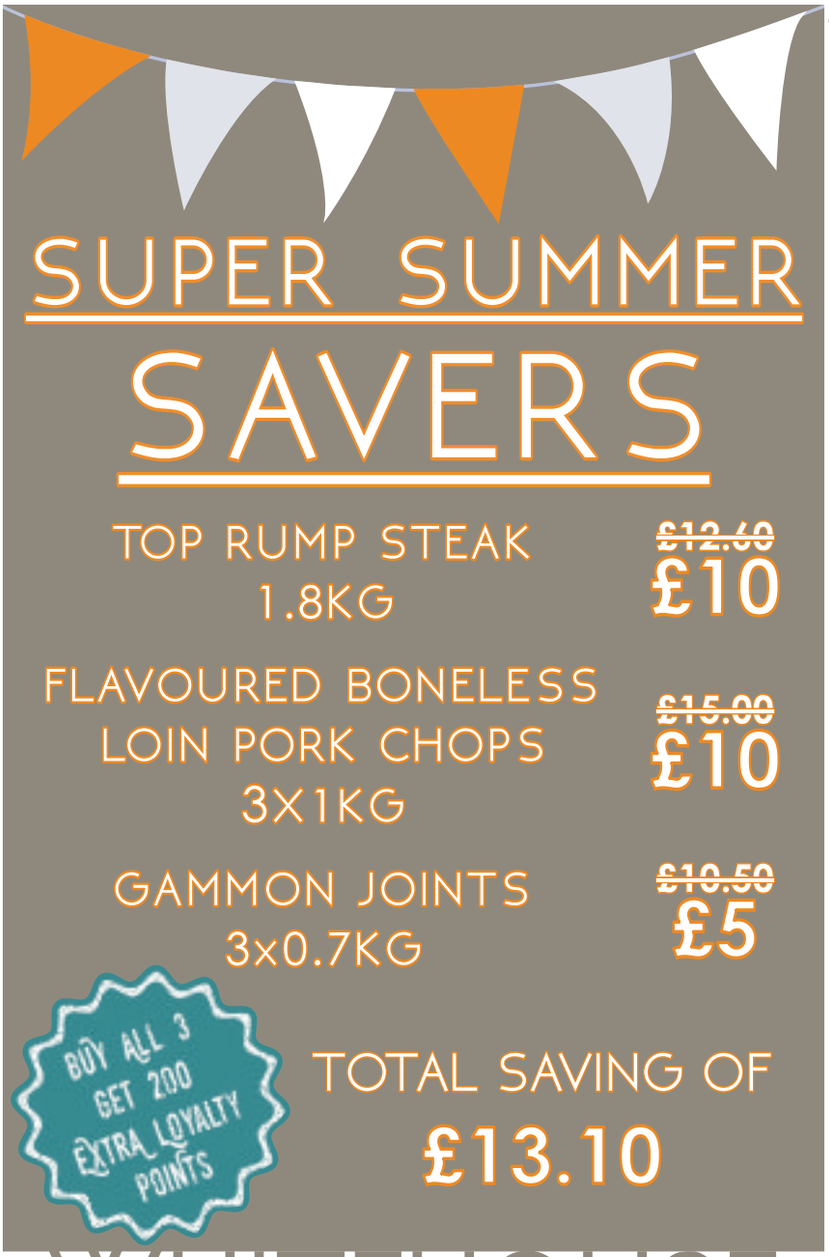
The latest figures show that 80 per cent of cardiac units are now carrying out this procedure, with more than half using the wrist as the main access point.

The trust has pioneered the life-saving procedure and created an annual training programme on the PCI procedure for surgeons from across the country.

Professor Mamas said the charity had helped to save lives across the UK.

Committee chairman Tony Berry said the latest donation meant that the charity had now raised more than £6million over 36 years. "This donation will help to shape the care given to heart patients not just here in Staffordshire but across the world, through its support for cutting-edge research to find the best and new techniques for patient care," he said.

Professor Mamas and his team will use the donation to further their research work on understanding potential complications from PCIs and how to predict these as well as avoid them to further improve patient safety.



Dozens of visitors enjoy Best of British day

Visitors and residents were kept entertained at the Best of British open day in the gardens of Horse Fair Care Home

HORSE Fair Care Home in Rugeley hosted a Best of British open day in recognition of the Queen's 90th birthday.

With the sun shining, more than 100 visitors joined residents in marking the monarch's milestone.

In true British style, the kitchen team at the home served up fish and chips and cream teas. Entertainment included local signer Natalie Knight and an outdoor farm enabling people to meet Sandy the rat and take Jumper the lamb for a walk around the gardens. One of the visual highlights of the day was Horse Fair's team of Morris Dancers.

Home manager Heidi Hunt said: "We had a huge amount of interest from residents to celebrate the Queen's birthday, so we organised this event and opened our doors to the wider community too. Each week Karen Walton, our recreation and leisure co-ordinator, puts together a great calendar of activities and events for our residents, keeping them active both physically and mentally as part of our resident Well-being Programme."

Isabella Mackie, a resident at Horse Fair since September 2014, said: "It was lovely. The sun shone, the music played and we got to meet lots of new people. The staff do a fantastic job for us here, and they definitely made it a day to remember."

Chase 'sex abuse' file sent to CPS for ruling

A REPORT into an alleged paedophile ring that operated on Cannock Chase in the 1980s and 1990s has been sent to the Crown Prosecution Service.

Staffordshire Police also confirmed that a man in his 60s arrested on suspicion of rape and conspiracy to rape in connection with the case remains on police bail.

It follows claims made by 33-year-old Esther Baker, who broke her silence a year ago.

Ms Baker chose to waiver her right to anonymity when speaking exclusively to our sister paper, the Express & Star, last May, claiming she had been systematically abused at the beauty spot by a politician, while police officers stood guard and sometimes took part.

She says she has been 'reassured' that progress is being made in the case. An investigation by detectives into her claims is now under way.

Ms Baker said: "Staffordshire Police have been very good to me. They have been in regular contact. It has passed the test to go to the CPS which are just getting involved now. I'm reassured it has gone to them because it was obviously a big hurdle. It is in their hands now. I have just got to wait and see, which I seem to be doing a lot of."

Esther Baker

Ms Baker, who was growing up in Lichfield at the time of her alleged abuse but now lives in Liverpool working as the manager at a bookmakers, said she did not regret coming forward but has since been the victim of 'trolling' on Twitter including receiving threats from people who may have been involved in the paedophile ring.

"I feel better, it has been slightly chaotic, but my general life is better, it is all out in the open now," Ms Baker added.

Meanwhile, Ms Baker is working towards setting up a community interest company, similar to a charity, which will campaign for sterner sentences for convicted paedophiles and the scrapping of a time limit for when child victims can report abuse.

Since breaking her silence the former pupil of Hydesville Tower School, in Walsall, said she was aware of other victims who have come forward but was not certain if they had made official complaints to police.

Supt Carl Ratcliffe from Staffordshire Police said: "We will continue to keep Ms Baker informed."

The CPS confirmed that they had already received the file.

Pet lions, tigers and camels in our towns

Open day is just the job

Confident – Charlotte Horton interviews a candidate at the Star Employment Services open day in Cannock

THE new branch of Star Employment Services in Cannock held its first open day, with one person securing themselves an interview.

The event took place at the offices in Queens Square in the town with several people being put forward for various roles.

Star Employment Services was launched in Wolverhampton by MNA, publishers of the Cannock & Rugeley Chronicle and Express & Star, three years ago, and the demand for its services has led to the opening of a new branch in Cannock, headed by Charlotte Horton. She said: "We had some very good quality candidates.

"Four have been put forward for roles we have available with one securing an interview with one of our clients. The quality of candidates was good.

"We had candidates across skilled engineering, customer service, sales and property attend.

"I am confident that revisiting an open day in the future, we will know which areas to push for bigger attendance."

TIGERS, lions, rattlesnakes and camels – these are just some of the dangerous animals being kept in Staffordshire and Walsall, new figures reveal.

A Freedom of Information request has shown that Walsall Council has allowed a Chinese alligator, 25 puff adders, rattlesnakes, vipers or cobras, two gila monsters – which are venomous lizards – and four bearded lizards to live on private property in the borough.

The request also revealed that Stafford has six camels in the borough, while Cannock Chase has three tigers and two lions.

Dudley, Sandwell and Wolverhampton councils did not reply to the FOI request.

Big cats, including 13 tigers, two lions, eight leopards, seven cheetahs and nine pumas, are prowling behind the fences of addresses up and down the UK.

Hundreds of poisonous snakes are also being kept, including more than 300 killer cobras, vipers and rattlesnakes.

Alligators

Meanwhile, lurking beneath the waters of domestic enclosures are 10 alligators, nine crocodiles and 17 caimans — a smaller member of the crocodile family.

More than 100 councils have given people licences to keep a host of deadly predators, with some keeping a variety of different species at their homes.

Dangerous wild animals licences are granted by councils to allow people to keep undomesticated creatures as pets, providing they have the requisite safety measures at their home and pay a small fee.

The RSPCA said it was concerned that licences too often focus on protecting the public from harm, rather than on the well-being of the animals themselves.

A spokesman said: "We are deeply concerned about the number of exotic animals, including dangerous wild animals, now being kept as pets. People may buy them with little idea of how difficult they can be to keep and the animals are sometimes neglected when the novelty wears off."

JOIN US IN CELEBRATING HER MAJESTY'S 90TH BIRTHDAY

Come and spend an afternoon at Horse Fair Care Home to help us celebrate the Queens official 90th birthday.

We will be hosting a street party in our gardens with sandwiches, champagne and strawberries served. Entertainment will be provided by the wonderful singer Natalie Knight, a troupe of line dancers, and you will also have a chance to meet Lexi our PAT Dog. Fun for all the family will be provided all afternoon.

While enjoying the celebrations why not take the chance to explore our lovely home and gardens.

NCS – an experience that changed a life

Young people taking part in fundraising activities

Online entrepreneur Jamal Edwards MBE in a Dragon's Den activity

Inspired – Faith Williamson

IF you're aged 15 to 17, National Citizen Service (NCS) is an experience you really don't want to miss.

It's a unique programme focused around fun and discovery, which helps participants build skills for work and life, take on new challenges, make new friends and contribute to their community. More than 200,000 young people have already said 'yes' to NCS, including 16 year old Faith Williamson from the West Midlands.

Faith took part during summer 2015 and was so inspired by her NCS experience that she wanted to share her story, to help other teenagers make the decision to participate. Faith said:

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

"Life hasn't been an easy ride and I lacked confidence and self-belief.

"So when I was browsing YouTube one day and I saw an advert for a programme that would supposedly change my life in one summer, I had no choice but to sign up!

"I was scared before my summer residential. The thought of not knowing anyone terrified me but as soon as we reached the residential centre I fell in love with the whole programme.

"Everyone was lovely and I immediately got thrown into exciting activities I'd never done before. I made some amazing new friends and was unbelievably sad when we had to leave!

"I put in 100% effort and enthusiasm from the word go and by the time my four weeks were up my team had managed to raise over £2,000 for two different local charities."

The experience didn't end there for Faith. Following her graduation from the summer programme she was nominated for the NCS Leaders programme.

Steve Binns, Faith's graduate manager said: "Faith was always very focused and determined when it came to community engagement but she struggled with self-belief. NCS helped her to see her worth because it celebrated her goals and efforts.

"Now I see a confident, head-strong young person who believes she can lead, knows she can achieve and is capable of anything."

Since becoming an NCS Leader, Faith says she had made life-long friends and incredible memories and even participated in a visit to 10 Downing Street.

Her confidence has dramatically increased and she now believes in herself and her own ability.

Faith added: "I want to go on and inspire young people to take a huge step like I did because now I'm happier than ever.

"I look back to a time where I could barely hold a conversation with a family member, and then think about my recent weekend where I was involved with NCS Action Day where I engaged in conversation with random members of the public, danced in front of complete strangers, sang at the top of my voice, brightening people's day and inspiring people to join me.

"Saying yes to NCS was the best thing I have ever done."

Hilarity for charity at Grand night out

WOLVERHAMPTON'S own comedy group Pappy's, stars of TV series Badults, are among a stellar line-up of top comics performing at the Hilarity Charity Gala 2016.

Comedy sketch trio Pappy's are Matthew Crosby, Ben Clark and Tom Parry, with Ben and Tom both being former members of Central Youth Theatre.

The trio have enjoyed four years of sell-out shows at the Edinburgh Festival Fringe and were Chortle Award winners in 2008 and 2013.

They found national fame with their BBC3 series Badults, which is now available on Netflix, an anarchic comedy about the misadventures of three flatmates.

Podcast

Pappy's also have a popular podcast called Bangers And Mash available via their www.pappyscomedy.com website.

Central Youth Theatre is hosting its third Hilarity Charity Gala at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre on Monday when a host of comedians, many familiar from top TV shows, present a rib-tickling night to raise money for the theatre group.

The line-up includes Birmingham stand-up Joe Lycett from 8 out of 10 Cats, Live at the Apollo, Never Mind the Buzzcocks and Celebrity Juice. Joe is a former Chortle Student Comedian of the Year and has been a guest for Scott Mills, Greg James and Nick Grimshaw on BBC Radio 1 and one of Radio 4's Just A Minute panel.

Home gig in Wolverhampton for Pappy's comedy group as part of the Hilarity Gala

Also performing will be Adam Riches from Horrible Histories and The Detectorists; Nish Kumar from Have I Got News For You and Russell Howard's Stand Up Central; Spencer Jones of sit-com Upstart Crow; Ivo Graham of BBC Radio 5 Live's Fighting Talk and ITV's Elevenish; and the evening will again be compered by Perrier award winner Daniel Kitson.

This year's gala is aiming to raise funds for the group's move into a new home in the former Co-Operative building opposite the Grand in Lichfield Street. Tickets are priced £17.50 and £22.50. Call 01902 429212.

Clare and all that jazz

AWARD-WINNING jazz singer, Radio 2 presenter and former Wolverhampton student Clare Teal will be accompanied by her 16-piece Hollywood Orchestra, led by top arranger and trumpeter Guy Barker, in concert at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre on Sunday.

The UK's Queen of Swing will present Twelve O'Clock Tales, based around her latest album, because she says every song has a tale to tell, and as the midnight hour falls so do barriers to innermost thoughts and desires.

Her repertoire will include classics from the Great American and British Songbooks with music from Cole Porter, Billy Strayhorn, Rodgers and Hammerstein to Tim Rice and Sting.

Clare became a familiar voice on radio as presenter of BBC Radio 2's Big Band Special. The Skipton lass discovered jazz via her grandmother's record collection and studied music at Wolverhampton Polytechnic (now university) before entering show business singing jingles. She has been associated with Big Band Special for 12 years

Talking about her new album Twelve O'Clock Tales, which features the prestigious Hallé Orchestra, Clare said: "This is our most ambitious project to date and being accompanied by the Hallé is an absolute privilege. To be in a room surrounded by 93 incredibly talented musicians wondrously lifting these stunning arrangements right off the page before your eyes makes for a great day out – to actually then add your own voice to the story is a dream come true.

"We're thrilled to be releasing Twelve O'Clock Tales on our own label. It's truly liberating to be in control of what you want to record."

Tickets for Sunday's Grand concert range from £18 to £28. See www.grandtheatre.co.uk or call 01902 429212.

One night only in concert line-up

THERE is a star-studded line-up for a series of one night concerts at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre (also see above).

Tonight (Thursday) the nation's Nancy, Oliver! star Jodie Prenger, is searching for romance in New York in Andrew Lloyd Webber and Don Black's Tell Me On A Sunday. Soul Legends on Friday features guest George 'Rock Your Baby' McCrae then 'People's Tenor' Russell Watson is in concert on Saturday. Clive John conjures 'the Man in Black' in the Johnny Cash Roadshow on Tuesday. Comedian Stu Francis, singer Maggie O'Hara and Steve Barclay as Max Miller are in Music Hall Memories on Wednesday.

Opera celebrates with Cav and Pag

WELSH National Opera is making a return visit to Birmingham Hippodrome to celebrate its 70th birthday with the classics Cavalleria rusticana and Pagliacci.

The double bill of Cav & Pag, sung in Italian with English surtitles, will be at the Hippodrome on Thursday and Saturday, June 9 and 11. Each opera packs lots of drama and powerful music into just over an hour.

On Friday, June 10, WNO perform In Parenthesis, British composer Iain Bell's adaptation of the epic poem by David Jones about First World War soldiers who enter a magical wood amid the horrors of the Somme.

Singer Corinne's creative rebirth

CORINNE Bailey Rae was worried about not bringing out a record in six years. "I think you have to remind fans of who you are, no matter the length of gap," she says. "But I do feel really lucky the people who follow my music have kept in touch. I feel like there's still a good connection there."

Sophisticated new record The Heart Speaks In Whispers charts Bailey Rae's creative and personal rebirth following the death in 2008 of her husband, saxophonist Jason Rae.

She plays Birmingham Barclaycard Arena on July 7 as support to Lionel Richie before V Festival in August.

The home nation will hope to be on the ball

It's finally time for the big kick-off, and as is customary the host nation gets proceedings under way tonight at the Stade de France.

If you thought that the pressure was high on this side of the Channel, spare a thought for Didier Deschamps French side who go into the tournament as favourites and with the hopes of an expectant nation on their shoulders.

The signs look good though – over the years, the hosts tend to perform well at the Euros, and the French have been victorious in each of the last two major tournaments that they have hosted, winning the European Championships back in 1984 and the World Cup in 1998.

Their current side is strong defensively, formidable in midfield with Paul Pogba, and rife with speedy attacking options.

The one thing they are perhaps missing is a true No.9, as Karim Benzema is suspended from international play.

One of France's greatest ever players, Thierry Henry, is confident that the hosts will be at the national stadium in Paris when the winner is decided in exactly one month's time.

He told Sky Sports: "This is the big one for us. This is the big one for Deschamps and the big one for the team.

"We all know it is not easy to win a tournament at home, but we have done it twice. "We have won the Euros in 1984 and the World Cup in 1998 so we have a history of usually winning it when we have the tournament at home.

"France has a good team. The only thing I will say is we haven't played an official game for a long time, so that might be the question mark about the team at the moment.

"I think we have a great team and I'm not saying that because I am French, but I do think they have one of the best teams in Europe.

"I'll tip them to win and I hope they will."

First up for Les Bleus, who also triumphed at Euro 2000 in the Netherlands and Belgium, are Group A rivals Romania.

The Tricolorii were defensively the best team in qualifying, conceding just two goals, but they were also the least prolific team that qualified, scoring just 11, so the French may have their work cut out breaking down their opponents this evening.

The tournament itself has been expanded to 24 teams this year, with matches taking place in 10 different host cities.

As far as the TV coverage goes, the BBC and ITV have split it down the middle once again.

Mark Pougatch has proven to be good replacement for previous ITV anchor Adrian Chiles, and the broadcaster has gone all out with its French theme for the Euros.

Promotional work has been done by Eric Cantona, while Emmanuel Petit, Christian Karembeu and Louis Saha have all joined the punditry team.

Ian Wright is also on the team, along with West Ham boss Slaven Bilic.

There is also a return to commentary on ITV for Andy Townsend after a year-long absence.

France take on Romania in Euro 2016, Friday, ITV, 7.15pm

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY
Reg
BBC1, 9pm
Jimmy McGovern is the writer who brought us the powerful dramas Hillsborough and Sunday, which was based on the events of Bloody Sunday. Now, he's tackling another real-life story, that of Reg Keys (Tim Roth), who in 2003 received the devastating news that his son Tom had been killed in Iraq. As his wife Sally (Anna Maxwell Martin) struggles with her grief, Reg tries to make sense of what has happened, and discovers that three weeks prior to Tom's death, the army had ordered a scale-down in weapons and communications. Convinced this was a mistake on the military's part, Reg makes the decision to stand as an independent candidate in opposition to the Iraq War in the next General Election – and he's going to do it in the constituency of Sedgefield, where he will be running against Prime Minister Tony Blair.

TUESDAY
Big Brother: Live Launch
Channel 5, 9pm
Emma Willis ushers in another diverse group of fame-seeking individuals who have been chosen to spend their summer invading the nation's living rooms. This year, the house has been made over into a stark monochrome world. However, while everything may appear black and white, the new residents will not be alone – they will be be under attack from a dark, unseen force designed to have a divisive effect on the entire housemates as they fall victim to paranoia and suspicion.

WEDNESDAY
Power Monkeys
Channel 4, 10pm
New series. Spin-off from the highly acclaimed comedy series Ballot Monkeys, following both sides of the EU referendum, along with prominent international politicians on Donald Trump's campaign plane and inside Vladimir Putin's Presidential office. Creators Andy Hamilton and Guy Jenkin highlight the follies and foibles of contemporary politics, writing much of the show in the hours leading up to transmission.

THURSDAY
DIY SOS: The Big Build
BBC1, 8pm
Let's face it, this occasional series holds few surprises these days. Each edition is basically the same – a family struggling to cope in difficult circumstances has their living environment (and possibly their very existence) transformed by Nick Knowles and his team of property experts, with help from the local community. Despite this lack of diversity, viewers always end up shedding buckets of tears at the end – and it's this emotional impact that keeps us coming back for more. In recent months, there have been variations on the theme, with Princes William and Harry getting involved in creating new homes for war veterans, but we're expecting this edition to play out as usual. So, don't forget those handkerchiefs!

Big Brother: Live Launch, Tuesday, Channel 5, 9pm

New Blood
BBC1, 9pm
Anthony Horowitz's writing career has been one of mostly outstanding success, so when it was revealed that he was penning a new seven-part drama for the BBC, critics and fans alike couldn't wait to see the results. The creator of Alex Rider and Foyle's War tells the story of trainee detective Rash Sayyad and Stefan Kowolski, a junior case worker at the Serious Fraud Office. They are thrown together by the discovery of the corpse of Mark Henson, one of a group of medical guinea pigs, and an investigation into David Leese.

FRIDAY
The Millionaire's Holiday Club
BBC2, 9pm
Imagine going on holiday to some of the most exclusive destinations money can buy? This two-part documentary goes away with millionaire clients on made-to-measure holidays and takes a behind-the-scenes at a luxury travel agents and their extraordinary efforts to try and provide seven-star holidays. We meet party girl Jane, who since selling her business 12 years ago, has decided to spend the rest of her days on holiday with partner Michael. The couple went on 12 in 2015, and begin this year with a sumptuous Christmas cruise around the Caribbean. Mervyn and Heather, on the other hand, just want a quiet life. Working all year on their Somerset fruit farm, they dream of 10 precious days away sitting on the beach and doing nothing during a stay at one of the most prestigious hotels in Jamaica. But this year is different.

Watch the water on the iconic 10th hole on The Brabazon

Time to relax at the well-stocked Brabazon Bar

Just as grand as it looks with beautifully-kept gardens

Enjoy the spa Fire and Ice Experience

This award-winning family resort is par excellence – and not just for golf

AS a novice golfer I can't pretend that I did not feel humbled as we made our way up the sweeping driveway to the famous Belfry Hotel & Resort.

With championship golf courses and several tourist awards I knew we were in for a treat.

With just a few golf lessons under my belt – so no Rory McIlroy – I was way out of my depth. But there was no way I was going to miss the chance to say that I had actually played at the Belfry. Of course it is not just golf that would attract you to this superb hotel at Wishaw, Sutton Coldfield, its tourism awards are well earned.

Do not be intimated by its name and reputation, grand as it is, it has a knack of making you feel right at home. My husband and I arrived one Friday afternoon and after looking around realised just how much this holiday resort has to offer.

Of course there is the world-famous golf – more of that later – but there is so much more to attract the whole family. There are no shortage of activities and places to eat for the young ones and a nightclub across the drive for the slightly older ones. For the woman in your life – and the sport is becoming more popular with the fairer sex – there is also the spa.

Sue Attwater tees off

You must treat yourself to a champagne tea, the ultimate in luxury. Our charming waiter James supplied us with a wonderful tiered stand full of sandwiches and cakes – it was like being at the Ritz.

We were saving the golf until the following morning so on the Friday we headed for the relaxing spa with the Fire and Ice Experience – 90 minutes of sheer bliss and if you are brave enough the ice cold bucket experience. He did, I didn't and I was quite glad after seeing the shocked look on his face.

Totally relaxed, we sat on the balcony and watched as the more experienced golfers tackle the 18th hole on the PGA course. It was easy to relax in the sumptuous room – the lady on reception said we would go 'wow' when we saw it and she was not wrong. The bedroom area was huge with a large en suite and dressing area and adjoining living room. Then, to step out onto the huge veranda with the lovely views – this is the life!

Nightclub

Time to settle there with a glass of wine and watch the others tackle the course and maybe get some tips for the morning. Relaxed and changed we headed off to the Ryder Grill restaurant for a delicious a la carte meal and I could forget the calories as I would work them off on the course the next morning.

Afterwards, if you fancy strutting your stuff, just pop across to the very popular Bel Air Nightclub & Lounge. Entrance is included in many weekend packages. Then after breakfast that was it – what I was waiting for. We headed out to the Derby golf course, the only one of the three where you don't need to have a handicap. As I explained when booking my only handicap was that I couldn't play!

There is also a driving range if you want to try out your skills first. For the little ones there is a small course that replicates some of the famous holes – like the one at Kiawah Island from the 1991 Ryder Cup.

The site has three full courses: The Brabazon, Ryder Cup in 1985, 1989, 1993 and 2002, PGA National, another for experienced players only and the third course The Derby the one we played.

It is available to all standards of players and is roughly 1,000 yards shorter than the other two. Even so, the full 18 holes are a big test of skills and stamina but we did both manage a par on one of the holes. I have not stopped raving about it since!

The Belfry has been nominated for three awards at the World Travel Awards 2016, having been crowned as England's Leading Resort last year. So if you are looking to get away with the family you can't go wrong.

YOUR WEEKLY GUIDE TO HOME BUYING AND LETTING

A detached family home with many impressive features

This immaculately presented executive detached family home is situated on a good sized plot in a quiet, sought-after cul-de-sac in Albany Drive, Wimblebury.

The property has outstanding features including an impressive open-plan breakfast kitchen. Also with four double bedrooms it is for sale through Lovett & Co at £330,000 with no chain. The open-plan breakfast kitchen is under four years old, having oak veneer door fronts.

This home also has a study room, a good sized landscaped garden, driveway with ample parking and converted garage that can be used as a gym.

It is situated on a popular modern residential estate in Wimblebury, which has a wide range of amenities, excellent local schooling and is also just a couple of minutes away from Cannock Chase. It is also ideally placed for commuting.

The property has a reception hallway, lounge, kitchen, dining room, study, utility and guest WC. On the first floor are four double bedrooms with en-suite to the master and a modern family bathroom.

Externally the property has a block paved/tarmac driveway with parking for several vehicles, a detached double garage and a private rear garden, double glazing and gas central heating throughout.

Extensive

In more detail the reception hall has laminate flooring and an under-stairs storage cupboard and a guest WC. The lounge has an Adams-style feature fire surround with a multi-fuel log burner on a slate hearth, a bay window and a double door to the dining room. This has carpeted flooring and patio doors to the garden. The study has carpeted flooring and overlooks the frontage of the property.

The modern open-plan breakfast kitchen has an extensive range of matching wall and base unitsincorporating cupboards, drawers and wooden work surfaces, space for a range oven, an integrated dishwasher, tiled flooring, space for an American-style fridge, table and chairs, and French doors to the garden. The utility room has space and plumbing for a washer/dryer, sink, tiled flooring and a door to the outside.

Off the first-floor galleried landing is the master bedroom with built-in wardrobes, carpeted flooring and an en-suite shower room. Bedroom two has a built-in wardrobe and carpeted flooring, as does bedrooms three and floor. At the front is a driveway with parking for several vehicles leading to the front door.

The good sized private rear garden has decked patio areas ideal for entertaining, gravel areas and lawn with attractive planted borders, a greenhouse and a useful shed/workshop. The converted double garage has carpeted flooring, windows with blinds, power and light.

Spacious detached four-bedroom property providing superb family accommodation is a real 'hidden gem'

113 Walsall Road, Great Wyrley, is an impressive detached residence providing superb family accommodation with four en-suite double bedrooms.

It is for sale through Paul Dubberley at £399,950.

Being conveniently situated for local schools, amenities and transport links, this spacious detached home is secluded from the road behind tree lined gardens.

CANNOCK
£399,950

With the ground floor having beautiful Karndean flooring it has a spacious extended lounge with a bay window and access into the study with its attractive 'arched windows' and French doors overlooking the rear garden.

The family room has a wood burning fire and the superb kitchen/ diner has units with granite worktops and a Belfast sink, utility room and guest WC.

To the first floor there are four en-suite double bedrooms and a bathroom with a Jacuzzi bath. Outside is a triple garage with electric doors, a driveway and gardens.

Honda Motability offers

By James Parker

With an excellent range that includes best-sellers like the new Honda Jazz, new Civic hatchback and Tourer estate plus the CR-V SUV, Honda is able to offer Motability considerable choice and variety.

It's also worth noting that two cars in the range – the Civic and CR-V – are both currently built here in Britain!

Last year, What Car? Magazine's journalists voted Honda as the most reliable car brand for the ninth year in a row.

All this information combines to make Honda a 'go to' brand for many Motability customers, especially as this esteemed manufacturer is able to offer a number of enticing deals.

Let's take a look at those Honda Motability offers currently available at your Honda dealer.

New Honda Jazz

We start with the talented Jazz where selected models in the excellent new Honda Jazz supermini range are now available with NIL Motability Advanced Payment, including the Jazz 1.3 i-VTEC S Automatic and even better equipped Jazz 1.3 i-VTEC SE Automatic.

All other Jazz models are also available under the scheme for low Advanced Payments.

Honda Civic

Need more room? All of the Civic five-door range is available to Motability customers, including petrol and diesel versions and the sleek Civic Tourer model.

Outstanding Motability offers across the Civic range include the NIL Advanced Payment on the Civic 1.4 i-VTEC S five-door, Civic 1.4 i-VTEC SE Plus five-door and the Civic 1.4 i-VTEC SE Plus five-door with Sat Nav. The Civic 1.8 i-VTEC S Automatic is also available with a Low Advanced Payment of £99. All these Civics are petrol-powered.

Go diesel and there's the Civic 1.6 i-DTEC S five-door available for a Motability Advanced Payment of only £99.

It's also worth noting that two cars in the range – the Civic and CR-V – are both currently built here in Britain

What's more, you'll be gaining one of the most advanced, refined and efficient diesels around.

Opt for the stylish Civic Tourer and there's nil advanced payment on the Civic Tourer 1.8 i-VTEC S Automatic while the Civic Tourer 2.0 i-VTEC S 2WD is currently being offered for the low advanced payment of £299.

The Civic Tourer 1.6 i-DTEC S with that excellent diesel powerplant is also available for an Advanced Payment of £299.

Honda CR-V

And then there's the CR-V, Honda's excptionally talented SUV for Motability customers to consider, especially as the CR-V 2.0i-VTEC S 2WD is currently being offered for an advanced payment of £299.

The diesel-powered CR-V 1.6 i-DTEC S 2WD is also available for an advanced payment of £699.

Vauxhall returns for reunion

A 1923 Vauxhall 23/60 made its first long journey after an 18-month mechanical restoration to be reunited with three generations of the previous owner's family at Vauxhall Motors' Heritage Centre in Luton.

Known as Alice, the vintage Vauxhall is now thought to be the most original of the around 90 surviving 23/60s from a total production of 1,300 made at the famous Kimpton Road factory between 1922 and 1926.

Kay Lorenzato, whose late husband owned the car from the 1950s, was delighted to see it for the first time after its inaugural, post-resto drive from Leicestershire to the last Vauxhall Bedford Owners' Association meeting. Her husband, she said, would have been "proud to see Alice on the road again" after he'd shared so many experiences with the car during the 1950s and 60s.

And Raymond Lorenzato certainly used the car extensively. A Grimsel Pass sticker on the windscreen and three tickets from a cinema in Lucerne found under the seat during restoration were evidence of just some of the European road trips he made in the 50s. The car also competed in various VSCC events, before being pushed into service as the Lorenzatos' daily transport during the 1960s (including the harsh winter of 1962/63).

Alice was last seen in Luton in 1964 at a 30-98 Register meeting and was on the road for a further three years, before being retired to the family garage with a cracked block. Talking to Vauxhall staff at the VBOA meeting, Kay Lorenzato had fond memories of attending rallies in Alice with her husband in the early 60s – including one at Brooklands – and recalled how attached they both were to the car.

Alice's appearance, which still shows the scars of a 93-year life, has carefully been preserved

Well known restorer and vintage racer, Mark Walker, purchased Alice from Kay at a Bonhams Beaulieu auction and over the last year and a half has undertaken a full mechanical restoration. The block has been repaired and new high-compression pistons fitted, but wherever possible Mark has retained original components, with 'conservation' rather than 'restoration' being his mantra.

And Alice's appearance, which still shows the scars of a 93-year life, has carefully been preserved, with even the original leather trim being saved during the process.

"In Alice, 60mph at 2,000 rpm is still a comfortable and smooth cruising speed and the car keeps up well with modern traffic," said Walker. "Higher speeds are certainly possible, but with only rear brakes, probably not advisable! I intend to use the car as family transport and would love to recreate the trip over the Grimsel Pass one day"

A 1923 restored Vauxhall returns for special reunion

By James Parker

A 1923 Vauxhall 23/60 made its first long journey after an 18-month mechanical restoration to be reunited with three generations of the previous owner's family at Vauxhall Motors' Heritage Centre in Luton.

Known as Alice, the vintage Vauxhall is now thought to be the most original of the around 90 surviving 23/60s from a total production of 1,300 made at the famous Kimpton Road factory between 1922 and 1926.

Kay Lorenzato, whose late husband owned the car from the 1950s, was delighted to see it for the first time after its inaugural, post-resto drive from Leicestershire to the last Vauxhall Bedford Owners' Association meeting. Her husband, she said, would have been "proud to see Alice on the road again" after he'd shared so many experiences with the car during the 1950s and 60s.

And Raymond Lorenzato certainly used the car extensively. A Grimsel Pass sticker on the windscreen and three tickets from a cinema in Lucerne found under the seat during restoration were evidence of just some of the European road trips he made in the 50s.

The car also competed in various VSCC events, before being pushed into service as the Lorenzatos' daily transport during the 1960s (including the harsh winter of 1962/63).

Alice was last seen in Luton in 1964 at a 30-98 Register meeting and was on the road for a further three years, before being retired to the family garage with a cracked block.

Talking to Vauxhall staff at the VBOA meeting, Kay Lorenzato had fond memories of attending rallies in Alice with her husband in the early 60s – including one at Brooklands – and recalled how attached they both were to the car.

Well known restorer and vintage racer, Mark Walker, purchased Alice from Kay at a Bonhams Beaulieu auction and over the last year and a half has undertaken a full mechanical restoration.

The block has been repaired and new high-compression pistons fitted, but wherever possible Mark has retained original components, with 'conservation' rather than 'restoration' being his mantra.

And Alice's appearance, which still shows the scars of a 93-year life, has carefully been preserved, with even the original leather trim being saved during the process.

"In Alice, 60mph at 2,000 rpm is still a comfortable and smooth cruising speed and the car keeps up well with modern traffic," said Walker. "Higher speeds are certainly possible, but with only rear brakes, probably not advisable! I intend to use the car as family transport and would love to recreate the trip over the Grimsel Pass one day"

Fifty years of boxer engine

Fuji Heavy Industries, the manufacturer of Subaru automobiles, this year celebrates the 50th anniversary of its horizontally-opposed 'Boxer' engine, so called due to the engine's pistons resembling the punch-counterpunch motion of a boxer's fists.

Subaru's signature Boxer engine was introduced on the Subaru 1000 compact passenger car on 14 May 1966.

Since then, Subaru has sought to maximise the advantages of its Boxer engines and continuously enhanced them to power its vehicles to this day.

Today, every vehicle sold by Subaru is fitted with a Boxer engine, with total production over the last 50 years topping 16 million units.

Compact

With the horizontally-opposed design of Subaru's Boxer engine, the opposing pistons work to cancel out the inertia force of each other, resulting in less vibration and superb rotational balance to provide smooth acceleration right up to the highest engine speeds.

Its compact form also allows it to be fitted lower in the engine bay than a conventional four-in-line engine, lowering the centre of gravity.

The Boxer engine is one of the key components that comprise Subaru's distinctive Symmetrical All-Wheel Drive (AWD) system. Subaru Symmetrical AWD offers a combination of superior stability and traction, with the symmetrical layout of the drivetrain allowing a balanced weight distribution, aided by the longitudinally-mounted Boxer engine. This synergy between engine and drivetrain delivers excellent performance, both in terms of high speed stability and under cornering. Earlier this year, the Japanese brand announced the production of the 15 millionth Subaru vehicle equipped with its famous Symmetrical AWD system.

Sportage success continues with more top gongs

Only a few months after launch, the all-new Kia Sportage has been crowned with another significant accolade, Diesel Car Magazine Car of the Year. Alongside this prestigious award, Sportage was also named Best Medium sized SUV.

The all-new fourth generation Sportage bettered the competition due to its excellent specification levels, even on low grade vehicles, including Bluetooth connectivity, DAB radio and satellite navigation. This coupled with its dynamic handling and distinctive design, made this family crossover a clear choice for the top spot.

The Sportage also impressed with its competitive prices, from only £17,995 or £139 a month, placing it as a very easy purchase decision for customers. The lead-in 1.7 CRDi 6-speed manual version starts at £19,745. Teamed with Kia's industry leading seven year warranty, the Sportage also brings significant peace of mind.

Kia's new crossover, which was introduced to the UK market on February 5 this year, has already seen unprecedented sales success, with over 14,000 customers placing orders in just four months.

Not far behind the Sportage in Diesel Car's Top 50 cars was Kia's family hatchback the cee'd, which came in at number 21, beating industry staples such as the Mazda 3 and Audi A3. Also claiming a top 50 place was Kia's range topping large SUV, the Sorento.

Editor and publisher of Diesel Car Ian Robertson commented on Kia's win: "The Sportage won the top spot because of its generous equipment levels, keen prices and excellent road manners, which means that the Sportage leapfrogs the competition to sit at the very top of the class."

Paul Philpott, president and chief executive of Kia Motors (UK) Limited said: "We are delighted and honoured to get this tremendous accolade from Diesel Car. Clearly new Sportage is a big winner with customers and Diesel Car's endorsement only reinforces the car's success."

Mustang well worth wait of 50 long years

By Ian Donaldson

IT has taken half a century and produced some entirely forgettable models along the way, but the Ford Mustang is finally available in proper European trim, with right hand drive – and it's been worth the wait.

The sixth generation of a Mustang that sparked demand for a new kind of car when it first appeared in 1965 can now be yours from £30,995.

That buys a properly American-made Mustang (of course!) but without the mighty V8 engine under the bonnet that produced the thunderous soundtrack made famous by Hollywood and Steve McQueen.

Still, with 145mph on tap and zero to 62mph in 5.8 seconds it's no slowcoach. Clever electronics even generates a synthetic soundtrack that does a good impersonation of the real thing.

This Mustang-lite (a relative term with such a large machine) also uses a bit less fuel (35.3mpg officially but 27mpg on test) and looks every American inch the real deal.

When sales settle down after the initial rush, with more than 3,500 Mustangs on order or delivered in the UK to date, this 2.3 EcoBoost with four cylinders and 313bhp is expected to take around half of all sales.

But at the moment the rush to satisfy a demand that's been building for 50 years means most Mustangs come with the pukka 5.0 litre V8.

Drive one and you know why from the first gentle push of the throttle; here is a car that's effortlessly fast – with 155mph and 4.8 seconds to 62mph available without hesitation.

If the official 20.9mpg looks like a reason to shun the real deal, consider the 23mpg the car returned over the same test route as its slighter sibling.

A real world four mpg advantage will not deter anyone who relishes the genuine throb of eight big cylinders at work.

Neither will a price difference of £4,000 that makes the 2.3 EcoBoost look almost a giveaway at £30,995 but the full fat 5.0 Fastback a steal for £34,995.

Brakes

That buys a car that comes loaded with kit, from Brembo front brakes, limited slip differential, xenon headlights, nine speaker sound system, power adjustable front seats, rear view camera and a switch to tame the rear wheels on slippery roads or sharpen the car's reactions when you feel a bit sporty.

The interior is clearly built with price in mind and the plastics on show will not worry Audi, or even Kia for that matter. No complaints about the superb front seats, perfect driving position and crisply clear instruments.

There is a six-speed manual gearbox as standard, with an automatic transmission for £1,500 behind either engine, and it is important you try both before putting down your deposit. They make more of a difference to the way this new Mustang behaves than even the engine choice. The manual box links your right foot to the nerve centre of the car and makes it feel so much more connected than the slightly diffident auto. As big a difference is available for an extra £3,500 in the handsome shape of the Mustang convertible, which weighs a bit more than the fixed-roof fastback and, predictably, shimmies gently on bad roads thanks to the lack of a rigid roof.

It's powered hood vanishes neatly in seconds and there is actually a fraction more leg room in the rear than offered in the fastback. Neither cars' back seats are adult friendly though, but perfectly suited to a couple of growing nippers, who are unlikely to complain as they out-cool their schoolmates. The convertible loses a little boot room but either body style has more than enough space for a fun car with a mildly serious side when there's shopping to be carried.

A fraction wider than, say, a Land Rover Discovery makes the Mustang a machine that needs some care on country roads but the further it went the narrower it seemed – always a sign of a car that keen drivers will enjoy.

Proper all-round independent suspension helps too, even if it strays on the harsh side of firm on some of our worst road surfaces.

Porsche unveils Cayman

Just weeks after revealing the new turbocharged 718 Boxster, Porsche has unveiled the matching 718 Cayman.

It uses the same 2.0-litre 296bhp and 2.5-litre 345bhp flat-four engines in the new Cayman and Cayman S variants, the latter making use of variable vane turbo geometry technology taken from the 911 Turbo.

The extra power makes the Cayman S as fast off the line as the 911, notching up the 0-62mph sprint in as little as 4.2 seconds with the PDK gearbox and Sport Chrono packs installed.

Official fuel efficiency is up to as much as 40.9mpg in the 2.0-litre car, while top speeds are 170mph and 177mph.

The suspension has been stiffened and the wheels and tyres made wider, in order to extract even more lateral grip from a car already well known for its cornering prowess.

Porsche has upgraded the brakes, too. The Cayman wears the system from the previous Cayman S, while the new S makes use of the four-piston calipers from the 911 Carrera, plus 6mm thicker discs.

As with the Boxster, two levels of Porsche Active Suspension Management (PASM) are available, lowering the car by 10mm and 20mm respectively, although the latter is only available on S models.

On the inside, Porsche Communication Management is now standard, to include mobile phone preparation, audio interfaces and a 150-Watt stereo.

For the first time the Cayman is priced below the Boxster, mirroring the 911 range where the soft-top is the more expensive. The range starts from £39,878, with the Cayman S at £48,834.

Everyone placing an order will be granted a complementary driving experience at the Porsche Experience Centre at Silverstone.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.

Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Technical Officer (Full Time)
£26,000 per annum

We're seeking someone who lives within 10 miles of Lichfield who will be based at home, travelling to customers' homes in and around Lichfield and Tamworth.

You will give practical and technical advice to homeowners who are undertaking repairs, improvements or adaptations. The advice and assistance will include disabled adaptations, rewires, roof repairs, kitchen and bathroom extensions or modernisations. You will project-manage the job from start to finish, supporting the customer throughout. We will provide you with the IT equipment you need.

This role requires:

- O'level/GCSE standard English and Maths and Microsoft Office proficiency
- Knowledge of the government's HHSRS
- Project management skills, and experience of managing contractors
- Ability to write schedules of work and provide sketches/technical drawings
- Your own transport insured for business use

You will also require a satisfactory enhanced DBS check.

Caseworker (Full Time) x 2
£20,139 per annum

You will be based at home, providing telephone assistance and advice, and travelling to visit customers in their own homes. You will cover South Staffordshire, so need to live in or near Lichfield, Cannock, Tamworth or Walsall.

Managing a diverse caseload, you will visit clients, discuss the work required and identify other support needs. You will arrange for schedules of work, specifications and technical drawings, obtain and evaluate estimates, ensure proper contractual arrangements are made, monitor building works on the customer's behalf, complete final inspections and sign off work ready for payment. Additionally you will advise customers on any financial help available. We will provide you with the IT equipment you need.

This role requires:

- O'level/GCSE standard English and Maths and Microsoft Office proficiency
- Understanding of property maintenance and basic contract management
- Ability to read and understand drawings, plans and schedules of work
- Experience of managing contractors and undertaking planned works
- Your own transport insured for business use

You will also require a satisfactory enhanced DBS check.

How to apply:

Closing date for applications for both posts:

STAFFORDSHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984
TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT ACT 2004

The Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009 (Amendment) No. 32/2016

1. Staffordshire County Council on 31 May 2016 made a Traffic Order under Sections 1, 2, 4, 32, 35, 45, 46, 47, 49, 53, 124 (1)(d) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, and the Traffic Management Act 2004 which:
   (a) prevents you from parking your vehicle at any time on the following lengths of roads:
   Hamelin Street, Cannock (both sides) – from the centre line of its junction with Pye Green Road in an easterly direction for a distance of approximately 21 metres.
   Pye Green Road, Cannock (east side) – from the centre line of its junction with Hamelin Street in a southerly direction for a distance of approximately 12 metres.
   Pye Green Road, Cannock (east side) – from the centre line of its junction with Hamelin Street in a northerly direction for a distance of approximately 11 metres.
   (b) prevents you from parking your vehicle between the hours of 9am and 3pm on Monday to Friday inclusive on the following length of road:
   Hamelin Street, Cannock (north side) – from a point approximately 21 metres east of the centre line of its junction with Pye Green Road, in an easterly direction for a total distance of 61 metres.
2. Exceptions permit waiting for the purposes of taking up and setting down passengers; loading or unloading goods; for vehicles displaying a Disabled Person's Badge; and where necessary in connection with the maintenance of roads and the supply of gas, electricity, telephones, sewerage services and water and in the service of the Environment Agency; for emergency service vehicles; for vehicles being used for the provision of a universal postal service by a universal service provider; for buses waiting at an authorised bus stop; for vehicles being used for floods defence works or land drainage works; and for so long as is reasonably necessary in connection with any wedding or funeral.
3. This Order amends the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009.
4. This Order is called the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009 (Amendment) No. 32/2016.
5. This Order amends the Plans marked BI 237 and BI 238 incorporating waiting restrictions on those roads specified in Article No. 1 above and which form part of the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009 and in substitution thereof.
6. Full details of the Order, together with a map showing the roads involved, may be examined during normal office hours at the office of the Director for Economy, Infrastructure and Skills; 2 Staffordshire Place, Tipping Street, Stafford, ST16 2DH and during normal opening hours at Cannock Library, Manor Avenue, Cannock, Staffordshire or via the internet at www.staffordshire.gov.uk/trafficregulationorders.
7. Any person who desires to question the validity of the Order or any provision contained in the Order on the grounds that it is not within the powers of the relevant sections of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 or on the grounds that any requirement of those Sections or of Parts I, II, and III of Schedule 9 of the Act or any regulations made under the said Part II of Schedule 9 of the Act has not been complied with in relation to the Order, may, within six weeks of the date on which the Order was made, make an application for the purpose to the High Court.
8. The Order will come into operation on 08 June 2016.

John Tradewell, Director for Strategy, Governance and Change 2 Staffordshire Place, Tipping Street, Stafford, ST16 2DH.

Date: 02 June 2016.

Riviera Travel

A selection of fascinating European and worldwide escorted tours by air and Eurostar.

Riviera Travel has been carefully researching and thoughtfully crafting an enticing range of European and worldwide guided tours plus a selection of short breaks, for over 30 years.

Their holidays are for the traveller looking for something just a little bit different and offer a perfectly balanced combination of the 'must see' classic sights and delightful 'hidden gems' – uncovered through extensive research of local areas.

Choose from a selection of hand-picked jewels in undiscovered parts of Spain, Croatia, Malta, or Italy, shorter breaks by Eurostar to Paris, Bruges or Normandy, or choose more unusual destinations such as Iceland or Russia.

There is also the chance to travel further afield and discover a wide variety of once-in-a-lifetime destinations including places such as America and Canada, India, Japan, or New Zealand.

New for 2016, Riviera has introduced Australia to their portfolio. Here, there are plenty of things to see and do including the chance to visit Ayers Rock, spend time in Melbourne, Sydney and Cairns, and enjoy a catamaran cruise to the Great Barrier Reef.

Price includes:

- ✓ Return flights or Eurostar travel
- ✓ Accommodation in a selection of four and five-star hotels, hand-picked by Riviera Travel
- ✓ Some meals, depending on tour
- ✓ Guided tours and visits to places of interest
- ✓ Services of a tour manager
- ✓ Single rooms subject to availability (supplement applies)

Organised by Riviera Travel (ABTA V4744, ATOL 3430)

Star Reader Travel is the travel department of the Express & Star and Shropshire Star newspapers. Prices are per person (unless otherwise stated). Peter Rippington Award winners claim their accolades on stage with Amy Rippington, left, and Chris Brunt

Ladies Basketball Most valuable Player was Lauren Saa

Ellie McFarlane was named the under-11s Coach's Player of the Year

Brunt centre stage for Sporting presentation

BAGGIES star Chris Brunt was the star attraction at the annual Sport club Albion presentation evening.

More than 300 eager footballers and basketball players flocked to The Hawthorns for the event.

The Northern Ireland international was on hand to distribute the awards as representatives from the girls' centre of excellence, ladies' football and basketball teams flooded the Richardson Suite for a night of celebration.

Sporting Club Albion is an integral part of The Albion Foundation and provides an opportunity for the local community to wear the Baggies' colours in a range of sports. The club has more than 250 players and 20 teams.

Brunt happily handed out awards and posed for photos with the award winners in each age group.

Individual trophies were given for the players' player, coach's player and parents' player of the year. And as is the tradition in basketball, there was a most valuable player (MVP) award.

Unbeaten

Compered by girls centre of excellence manager Louise Scott, the night featured a multitude of videos and photos highlighting an action-packed season which included the under-16 boys' basketball team remaining unbeaten all season and the Sporting Club Albion Ladies side reaching the County Cup final and progressing to the quarter-finals of the Women's FA Cup where they came up against Women's Super League side Manchester City.

Rob Lake, director of the foundation, said: "It was fantastic to see such an excited crowd at another of our end of season awards nights. The atmosphere was electric.

"We really appreciate Chris taking time out of his day to join us. Being on stage for the players to have their photo with him really made the night special for them. There is a great trust and respect between the coaches and I felt that was demonstrated with their speeches. I cannot speak highly enough of the group."

The night also featured the announcement that the Sporting Club Albion set up would revert to West Bromwich Albion as of next season, meaning all teams will play under the Baggies name. The evening ended with the distribution of the Peter Rippington Award.

The accolade is in honour of Peter Rippington, who died in 2012, A long-standing supporter of all levels of football, he was teacher at Alvechurch School, and the father of former Club Albion player Amy. Mr Rippington was renowned for being loyal, selfless, and hard working in every aspect of his life, and the recipient of this award shares such traits.

The award is given to the player who, in the eyes of the ladies' coaching team and senior playing staff, has represented the SCA badge with the same loyalty and dedication that Mr Rippington represented his family, his school and his community.

This year, the award was dedicated to four Sporting Club Albion Ladies players – Kelly Darby, Hazzana Parnell, Eleanor Clarke and Billie Haynes – who have lost relatives throughout the season. Te awards for Sporting Club Albion Ladies were not distributed due to the team still having a number of games remaining as they battle for the league title and the opportunity to be promoted to the Women's Super League.

Awards were: Girls Centre of Excellence, football Under-11s - Coach's Player of the Year: Ellie McFarlane; Players' Player of the Year: Alannah Meynell; Parents' Player of the Year: Alannah Meynell.

Under-13s - Coach's Player: Anna Craig; Players' Player: Anna Bebb; Parents' Player: Harmonie Cotterell.

Under-15s - Coach's Player: Charlie Whitehouse; Players' Player: Freya Owens; Parents' Player: Katie Clarke.

Under-17s - Coach's Player: Shannon Stamps; Players' Player: Lucy Finch; Parents' Player: Lucy Finch.

Basketball, Under-16 Boys - Coach's Player of the Year: Adam Tiley; Player's Player of the Year: Sulyman Suwareh; Boys Most Valuable Player: Connor Lynch.

Under-18 Girls – Coach's Player: Oliwia Zegel; Players' Player: Lauren Saa; Girls Most Valuable Player: Lauren Saa; Boys – Coach's Player: Tarondeep Nijjar; Players' Player: Jrae Lue; Boys Most Valuable Player: Encosee Richards.

Under-19 Boys – Coach's Player: Matej Dudak; Players' Player: Jamal Brown; Boys Most Valuable Player: Jamal Brown.

Mens - Coach's Player of the Year: Dale Deakin and Dinais Tobi-Lara; Players' Player: Ramone Joseph; Most Valuable Player: Dailian Mason.

Women's – Coach's Player: Abby Watson; Players' Player: Lauren Saa; Most Valuable Player: Fatosh Tozaki.

Peter Rippington Award: Kelly Darby, Hazzana Parnell, Eleanor Clarke, Billie Haynes.

Connor sets example with his black belt

A YOUNGSTER from Staffordshire is celebrating after becoming the first student to progress to black belt status at his club.

Connor Heath, aged 12, who trains at Newport and Penkridge Tae Kwon Do, travelled to the Tae Kwon Do Association of Great Britain's headquarters in Bristol with over 600 other students, to take his black belt grading.

The black belt is the culmination of a minimum of three and a half years of training and the ability to attain and demonstrate a very high standard of the martial art.

He was one of the first students to start training at the club, and over the past six months in the run-up to his grading,he has been described as the very definition of focus and determination.

Demands

All of his hard work eventually paid off as one report from a world master of Tae Kwon Do who sat on the grading panel said that Connor absolutely 'smashed it'.

His instructor Sarah Bratby said: "Connor is a very attentive student, and has coped with the demands of training for such a big day incredibly well.

"He is very worthy of the title of the first homegrown Newport and Penkridge Tae Kwon Do black belt," she added.

Anyone who would like any more information about Penkridge Tae Kwon Do can get in contact with instructor Dan Moffat by calling 07783 690276 or emailing dan@nptkd.co.uk

Pitmen boss snaps up striker Singh in one-year deal

HEDNESFORD Town have signed striker Gurjit Singh on a one-year deal.

Singh had spent the last 14 months with Kidderminster Harriers.

Harriers signed the 25-year-old after he impressed for West Midlands League side Smethwick Rangers, scoring 21 times in 25 appearances, before notching 13 goals in 14 games for Tipton Town between January 2015 and the end of the season. He went on to score four times from 11 starts last season in the National League.

Pitmen boss Liam McDonald said National League sides had been interested in the striker, adding: "I'm really excited to bring him to the club. He has pace, can play off both feet, finishes really well and is also very powerful. His potential is going to be a huge asset for us."

Singh said: "I'm just really happy to have joined the club. A big factor is that Liam McDonald is at the club and that was a huge influence for me having met with him in order to see where he wants to go. I rejected offers from the league above in order to come to the club. "

In another raid on Redditch's squad, Hednesford have also signed midfielder Simeon Maye, who has had spells with Birmingham City, Tamworth and Boldmere St Michaels too.

Defender Francino Francis, who has featured more than 100 times for the Pitmen, has recommitted to the club.

Cup of cheer for Khalsa with late goal

It's celebration time for Sporting Khalsa

Football

SPORTING Khalsa staged a second-half comeback to earn a 3-2 win over Wolverhampton Sporting Community and lift the JW Hunt Cup at Molineux.

It was Wolves who were first on the scoresheet with a classic second minute counter-attack. A Khalsa corner was cleared to halfway where Dan Westwood held off a man before squaring to Josh Sarmento who sidestepped a challenge and slotted low past the keeper.

Khalsa hit back quickly and in the 17th minute, Dave Meese's first-time volley was pushed wide by the keeper but quickly returned into the middle where Craig Bannister fired into the open net from six yards.

The West Midlands League regained the lead in the 38th minute. Ethan Delaney earned a free-kick 25 yards out which Westwood curled in over the wall.

Khalsa pulled level for a second time in the 68th minute when Tes Robinson produced a good turn and finish following a corner. Two minutes from time, a cross from the right dropped to Meese and he fired low into the bottom corner.

TWINS STILL RACING AHEAD

HEDNESFORD rider Kurt Wigley claimed his first podium, racing on the international stage.

Kurt, and twin brother Matt take part in the Superstock 600 championship, which normally supports the British Superbike Championship.

Last weekend, at Donington Park, the race supported the World Super Bike Championship and Kurt had a brilliant weekend.

He was fastest in practice on the Friday, although he did not manage the same in qualifying on Saturday. However, come the race on Sunday he was the front of the second group in the race and was able to get third place when two of the leading group took each other out.

The pair had previously enjoyed a 'brilliant weekend' of racing with both claiming top 10 finishes. The twins kept improving their lap times every session around the iconic Brands Hatch circuit in Kent.

Potential

Round three of the championship saw the 20-year-olds show their true potential as Kurt finished outside the podium places by just 0.1 seconds in fifth, setting the fastest lap of the race.

Matt also enjoyed success with a 10th-place finish on the Sunday, battling his way up nine positions after starting from 19th on the grid.

Kurt said: "We had a brilliant weekend and it would have been even better had the first race start not been red-flagged after the first lap.

"I had managed to get off the line and into second by the first bend but when it was restarted the other riders knew what line I was going for and I was blocked off.

"But to eventually come fifth and set the fastest lap of the race was fantastic.

"After the first practice I was 10th fastest, then eighth after the second qualifying, eventually lining up sixth on the grid.

"It was the second race on the trot I had qualified on the second row too, so we were all really pleased with that.

"All five of the front-runners crossed the line almost together. We were so close to a podium."

Matt currents sits one place above his brother in the standings.

St John's pocket memorable double

ST John's completed a memorable double with a 3-1 away victory in the second leg of the Aldridge Snooker League Premier Division League Cup Final against Wednesfield Cons A, completing a 6-3 aggregate win to add to their league title.

In the Division One League Cup Final Wednesfield Cons B visited Darlaston Cons with a 4-1 advantage from the first leg and completed a 6-4 aggregate League Cup victory. They face Stafford Road B in a play-off for promotion to the Premier League.

Holders Paul Harrison & Lee Thomson (Wednesfield Cons) were beaten 3-0 in the final of the Foursomes Championship by ex-pro Ade Rosa and promising youngster Ryley Archer (Lea Hall).

The u-21 Junior Championship Final at Amery saw Riley Parsons (St John's) defeat Golden Cue's Tom Hurst 3-0 for his first Aldridge Junior title.

Captain's Cup holder Paul Harrison (Wednesfield Cons) fell to challenger Andy price of Bloxwich.

Climb goes on thanks to nervy wins

HALESOWEN and Wombourne continued their climb up Division Two of the Birmingham League after tense victories over Penkridge and Stourbridge respectively.

At Seth Somers Park, Halesowen secured their victory off the last ball of the match. Penkridge batted first and clocked up 228-7 thanks to solid contributions from Mo Ishtiaq (66) and Mo Hassan (50 not out). Eddie Rhodes was the pick of the home bowlers with 3-43.

Penkridge dragged themselves back into the contest after Jack Myers fell with the score on 163 but their hopes of victory were thwarted.

Meanwhile, Adam Quiney was the standout performer as Wombourne grabbed a two-wicket success against Stourbridge. Quiney picked up 4-37 as Stourbridge were restricted to 188-8.

An inspired spell of 4-49 from Zain ul-Hassan raised Stourbridge's hopes. But Adam Quiney added 46 from 42 balls while his brother Ryan chipped in with 25 to help Wombourne over the line and up to fourth.

Cannock & Rugeley Hawks slipped to a 50-run defeat at the hands of Harborne. Harborne posted 270-8 as Johar Ahmed and Muhammad Fayaz shared the wickets for Hawks. In reply, Hawks fell away to 220 with Saqib Akbar and Omar Ali the only men to pass 30.

In Division Three, Jamie Lunn inspired the comeback of the day as Brewood recovered from 19-4 in pursuit of Lichfield's 233-7.

Dewald Joubert (59) began the fightback before Lunn (74 not out) and Danny Smith (29) put on 98 for the eighth wicket to inspire an unlikely two-wicket victory with two balls to spare. Tom Stone (100) and Stuart Fielding (52) had put on 115 for the second Lichfield wicket. Elsewhere, Worfield beat Fordhouses with three wickets to spare.

Colts on lookout for new recruits

A CANNOCK junior football team are looking for new players ahead of the 2016-17 season.

Cannock Town under-8s Colts, who play in the Walsall Junior League, are looking for players to join in readiness for seven-a-side games next season.

All coaches at the club are FA qualified. Training takes place on a 3G surface as well as on grass. The new recruits need to be in school Year 3 at present and Year 4 from September. Boys currently in Year 2 are also eligible.

Anyone who is interested is invited to contact Pete by calling 07729 963087.
